Re: Estuary Transit District, et al. v. Hartford Healthcare Corporation, D. Conn., Case No. 3:24-cv-01051-SFR

Dear Counsel:

Please find the attached documents in volumes HHC-BROWN-VOL-44 and HHC-BROWN-REPROD-15. Both volumes contain documents produced or reproduced by Defendants in response to Plaintiffs' Requests for the Production of Documents in the above-entitled action, subject to and without waiving Defendants' objections and responses to these requests.

In response to your July 31, 2025 letter, and consistent with Defendants' August 15, 2025 response letter, these are documents that Defendants have rereviewed and downgraded. The Bates ranges and privilege log IDs for this volume are provided in Attachment 1. Volume 44 contains documents that were previously withheld on the basis of privilege. Volume HHC-BROWN-REPROD-15 contains re-produced documents replacing certain privilege slipsheets and redacted documents from prior production sets. The Bates ranges and privilege log IDs for the reproduction are in Attachment 2. These documents are designated "CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS' EYES ONLY" pursuant to the protective order in this case.

Along with the attached documents, please find an updated privilege log for documents dated on or after October 1, 2018 in connection with this production.

Sincerely,

Leo D. Caseria

Re: Estuary Transit District, et al. v. Hartford Healthcare Corporation, D. Conn., Case No. 3:24-cv-01051-SFR

Dear Counsel:

This letter responds to your letter dated August 26, 2025 regarding the privilege log produced by Defendants Hartford Healthcare Corporation, Hartford Hospital, Hartford Healthcare Medical Group, Inc., and Integrated Care Partners, LLC (collectively, "HHC"). Please note that we recently produced a revised privilege log on August 29, 2025.

Your letter includes an Exhibit A, which specifically identifies, for the first time, 27,732 privilege log entries that plaintiffs are challenging -- over 50% of HHC's privilege log. At the same time, your letter rushes to declare impasse as to 8 purported categories of deficiencies in HHC's privilege log.[1] Declaring impasse as to 27,732 documents in the same letter where those documents are first identified does not constitute a good faith meet and confer. Nor would it be possible, as your letter demands, to review 27,732 documents within 7 business days. Furthermore, while your letter lists bates numbers for 27,732 challenged documents, it fails to identify which challenges you are raising as to which documents. Please specify which challenges you are asserting for each of the documents in Exhibit A. See D. Conn. L.R. 37(a) ("No motion pursuant to Rules 26 through 37, Fed.R.Civ.P. shall be filed unless counsel making the motion has conferred, in person or by telephone, with opposing counsel and discussed the discovery issues between them in detail in a good faith effort to eliminate or reduce the area of controversy, and to arrive at a mutually satisfactory resolution.").

[1] (1) Documents withheld entirely; (2) documents purportedly lacking "need to know" information; (3) documents attached to privileged emails; (4) documents purportedly lacking subject matter information; (5) draft documents containing privileged content; (6) documents identifying law firms or legal departments instead of individual attorneys; (7) documents with attorneys copied; (8) documents subject to the common interest doctrine.

Your letter suggests an in camera review of "a representative sample of entries" from HHC's privilege log. For the reasons above, this is premature. Your letter also fails to provide any detail on how plaintiffs propose to identify a "representative sample" of HHC's privilege log entries from the 27,732 documents listed in Exhibit A.

It is unclear from your letter exactly what plaintiff would be seeking from the court if you file a motion. Would plaintiff seek in camera review of an unidentified sample from HHC's privilege log? Production of all 27,732 documents listed in Exhibit A? Something else? Please specify.

As with your earlier letters, you point to a handful of documents as purported evidence of "systemic" issues throughout HHC's entire log. For example, you reference the "simple fact" that HHC has reproduced "over 500 documents" in response to earlier letters, and has reproduced "at least 77" documents in response to separate letters from plaintiffs challenging specific documents in advance of certain depositions. These figures represent approximately 1% of HHC's privilege log and less than one tenth of one percent of the documents produced in the case. Your letter fails to support the incredibly overbroad, unduly burdensome, and disproportionate demands plaintiffs are making with respect to 27,732 documents in Exhibit A.

Below, we address the specific issues raised in your letter.

1. Documents withheld entirely

As noted above, you assert there are "systemic" issues with HHC improperly withholding entire documents instead of redacting them. HHC's decision to produce small numbers of documents that were previously on its privilege log is not evidence of a "systemic" issue.

You declare impasse as to this category of documents, but you fail to specify which documents are being challenged on this basis.

Please identify the subset of documents in Exhibit A that you assert have been improperly withheld in their entirety. For each document you identify, please specify why you believe the privilege log description indicates that the document should be redacted rather than withheld entirely. As you know, HHC's original privilege log contained some redacted documents and some documents that were fully withheld. This is consistent with the cases you cited in your letters, which indicate that there will be circumstances where complete withholding may be appropriate, and other circumstances where redactions may be appropriate.

2. Documents purportedly lacking "need to know" information

Your letter states: "[C]ontrary to the assertion made in your letter, the issue is not whether legal advice is involved; the issue is whether privilege has been waived by virtue of including employee recipients who did not 'need to know' the legal advice at issue." Thank you for confirming that these are privileged communications where legal advice is involved. Accordingly, the only question is whether there has been a privilege waiver.

You declare impasse as to this category of documents, but as noted above, HHC cannot decline to do something it hasn't been given an opportunity to do. Please identify the subset of privileged communications in Exhibit A that plaintiffs believe have been subject to waiver because the privileged communication was shared with someone who did not "need to know" the legal advice that was requested or provided.

Your letter states that in order to analyze "need to know" issues, you need "[a] clearer articulation of the role and relevance of non-lawyer recipients." HHC has already produced org charts that identify names, titles, and reporting structures of the HHC employees who appear in HHC's privilege log. The information you seek is already in your possession.

To be clear, an employee "needs to know" the legal advice that he or she receives if the employee is "in a position to act or rely on the legal advice contained in the communication." Scott v. Chipotle Mexican Grill, Inc., 94. F. Supp. 3d 585, 598 (S.D.N.Y. 2015). As the court in Scott explained when it held that Chipotle employees needed to know legal advice that was shared with them: "[A]s a large corporation, Chipotle could not realistically have acted on that advice without communicating it to its own employees. Accordingly, to the extent that it is correct that all recipients were able to act upon or implement the information or advice they received (and given their titles the Court assumes that is the case), the e-mails and the attachments are privileged." Id. at 599-600.

The same is true for HHC, which is also a large corporation. HHC cannot implement legal advice without communicating it to HHC employees. HHC has produced org charts detailing the names and titles and reporting structures of its employees, which confirms that recipients of legal advice were in a position to act or rely on the advice. See also MoInlycke Health Care US, LLC v. Greenwood Mktg., LLC, 2024 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 197364, *8 (S.D.N.Y. Oct 29, 2024) ("The Court analyzes the recipient's 'need to know' from two perspectives: '(1) the role in the corporation of the employee or agent who receives the communication; and (2) the nature of the communication, that is, whether it necessarily incorporates legal advice.'") (quoting Norton v. Town of Islip, 2015 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 125114, *3 (E.D.N.Y. Sept. 18, 2015).

3. Documents attached to privileged emails

You assert that HHC "falsely presumes that the simple act of attaching a document to a privileged communication renders the attachment privileged." Not so. Attachments on HHC's privilege log were provided in connection with obtaining or rendering legal advice, consistent with the examples described in our August 15 letter. See Gen. Elec. Co. v. United States, 2015 WL 5443479, *1 (D. Conn. Sept. 15, 2015) ("information communicated to an attorney in connection with obtaining or rendering legal advice is properly subject to a claim of privilege, even if the information standing alone would not otherwise be subject to a claim of privilege"). You agree with the "unremarkable proposition" set forth by Gen. Elec. Co., which we cited in our August 15 letter because this is what we did.

Accordingly, it is unclear where the dispute lies. The parties agree that attachments provided in connection with obtaining or rendering legal advice are privileged, and we have confirmed in both our August 15 letter and in this letter that this is the approach we took when creating the privilege log. In light of this, what are you seeking from HHC?

If a dispute remains, please identify the specific subset of documents in Exhibit A that plaintiffs are challenging on these grounds, and why. We cannot be at impasse without understanding which documents plaintiffs are challenging on this basis, and what plaintiffs are seeking.

4. Documents purportedly lacking subject matter information

You assert that HHC's privilege log entries lack sufficient detail and are no different from entries that were rejected in WCA Holdings III, LLC v. Panasonic Avionics Corp., 2025 WL 1434375, *9 (S.D.N.Y. May 17, 2025) (holding privilege log entries inadequate where subject matter information was limited to "discuss[ing] or reflecting in house counsels' legal advice or analysis.").

A simple review of HHC's privilege log reveals that HHC's entries are far more detailed. For example, consider PLHHC-BROWN-0001742, which you challenge on page 4 of your letter. The "privilege description" field states: "Email requesting confidential legal advice of counsel regarding contract issues." In addition, the "subject line" field (which you specifically demanded that we provide in your May 23 letter) states: "HHCMG TRICARE Contract." Combining this information with the other fields in HHC's privilege log, plaintiffs would know that the document is an email from David Zinkerman to attorney Dan Kalosieh requesting legal advice regarding contract issues concerning a Tricare contract.[2]

We strongly disagree that this example is "equally conclusory" to the example you cite from WCA Holdings III. Far from it.

As with the other categories above, you demand that we review and revise these entries, but you fail to specify which entries in Exhibit A are being challenged on these grounds. Please specify and explain what additional information you are seeking.

5. Draft documents containing privileged content

We have re-reviewed the documents in this category and removed certain documents from HHC's privilege log, which were produced on August 29. 39 draft emails remain on HHC's privilege log. Our review is ongoing, and we will be producing additional documents from this category.

In our August 15 letter, we cited Wagner Aeronautical, Inc. v. Dotzenroth, 2022 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 158665, *7 (S.D. Cal. Sept. 1, 2022) and explained that a draft reply email or email forward that includes an underlying privileged email string is privileged. In your letter, you agree: "In both Wagner and the example in your letter, the draft email is reportedly privileged—not because it was originally composed with intent of sending it to counsel—but because the draft contained previously obtained legal advice." The drafts that are staying on HHC's privilege log are privileged for this reason, or, as the court in Wagner explained, because they "memorialize[]" or "reflect[]" actual privileged conversations or communications.

We don't believe any dispute remains as to this issue. If you disagree, please explain.

6. Documents identifying law firms or legal departments instead of individual attorneys

Your letter declares that "it is insufficient to simply identify a corporate legal department as the entity forming the basis for the privilege assertion." You are wrong.

As we explained in our August 15 letter (which you ignored and failed to address): "HHC employees often refer in emails to advice from the 'legal' department or from a particular law firm, without identifying a specific attorney by name. In such instances, we have provided as much information as we have by listing the HHC legal department or the applicable law firm as the legal professional. . . . No case cited by Plaintiffs holds that generally referencing in-house or outside counsel is not permitted or results in waiver of attorney-client privilege. Indeed, that logic would lead to the absurd result that memoranda from law firms, without listing a specific attorney, would be deemed not privileged."

District courts in the Second Circuit and nationwide routinely reject the argument you are making and hold that it is not necessary for a privilege log to specifically identify an individual attorney by name. See GMO Gamecenter USA, Inc. v. Whinestone US, Corp., 2025 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 153682, *9 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 8, 2025) (rejecting argument that privilege log must "identify . . . specific attorney creating the privilege," explaining that "there is no such rule," and further explaining that "courts regularly conclude it is not required."); In re Allergan PLC Securities Litig., 2021 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 171331, *9 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 8, 2021) ("We also see no particular need for the attorney's name to be revealed in the communication, or for that matter the privilege log, in order for the privilege to be maintained."); U.S. Information Systems, Inc. v. International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, No. 00-CV-4763, 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 17532, at *4 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 17, 2002) (no additional information required in privilege log where "identity of the specific individual who authored the document could not be ascertained."); see also In re Diisocyanates Antitrust Litig., No. 18-1001, 2024 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 175477, at *11-12 (W.D. Pa. Aug. 27, 2024) (holding that privilege log entries referring to the "legal department" were adequate because there was "sufficient nexus between the communication and an attorney" (internal quotes omitted)); In re Abilify (Aripiprazole) Prod. Liab. Litig., 2017 WL 6757558, at *6 (N.D. Fl. Dec. 29, 2017) ("With regard to those instances where a specific name is not identified, this is not fatal . . . . Indeed, it is not uncommon within a complex organization that when a request for information is made by outside counsel communications among corporate employees transmitting the request for information frequently will simply refer to the request as coming from outside counsel as opposed to a specific attorney or law firm. The important inquiry from a privilege perspective is the nature of the communication and the context in which it is made and not necessarily the precise identification of the source of the request for information.").

7. Documents with attorneys copied

Thank you for confirming that the fact of an attorney being copied on an email, standing alone, does not indicate that a document is not privileged. As you state: "[C]ommunications are neither privileged nor not privileged merely because an attorney is copied or blind copied." Despite this concession, you proceed to demand that HHC "undertake . . . further review" of 2,272 documents, based on the sole fact that that attorneys are copied on those documents. This makes no sense. If an attorney being copied on an email makes no difference, which you concede, then it cannot be a reason why HHC must re-review 2,272 documents.

Your letter also refers to 6,311 emails with no attorney identified "at all." We believe these documents are addressed in Section 6 of our letter, though you have not provided any bates numbers. Please provide the bates numbers for the documents in Exhibit A that fall into this category.

8. McKinsey and VMG

We have re-reviewed the documents to or from McKinsey and VMG and removed certain documents from HHC's privilege log, which were produced on August 29. After a further review, we will be producing a small number of additional documents from this category.

9. Common Interest Doctrine

Thank you for confirming that the parties have no separate dispute as to the applicability of the common interest doctrine, and that the only areas of dispute relate to the "disputes discussed above."

Sincerely,

Re: Estuary Transit District v. Hartford HealthCare Corp., No. 24-cv-01051 (D. Conn.) – HHC's Supplemental Privilege Log

Dear Counsel:

Thank you for your September 5, 2025 letter. The Parties have engaged in extensive correspondence regarding the adequacy of HHC's privilege log – and the multiple supplements thereto – over several months. This includes both general and witness-specific challenges presented by Plaintiffs. In response, HHC has now revised its privilege three times and withdrawn or narrowed its privilege assertions for 1,926 documents.

Despite these nearly two thousand concessions of erroneous privilege claims, HHC continues to deny the systemic issues plaguing its privilege log. Instead, HHC criticized Plaintiffs for alleged "blanket objections" and insisted on document-by-document challenges. (Caseria Letter, Aug. 15, 2025, at *2.) While Plaintiffs questioned this approach, they reluctantly complied by identifying approximately 28,000 entries affected by Plaintiffs' concerns on August 26, 2025.

HHC now requests that Plaintiffs specify precise challenges for each entry. To be clear, the challenges asserted mirror those the Parties have debated for months, are self-evident from the entries themselves, and were submitted in the same format previously accepted by HHC without objection. Nonetheless, in the interest of expediency, Plaintiffs have enclosed a chart containing a revised list with the additional requested details. (See attachment A.)

While Plaintiffs understand that reviewing these challenged entries will require time, the ongoing discussions necessitate a swift resolution if Plaintiffs are to effectively use these documents in depositions.[1] Accordingly, Plaintiffs previously proposed two paths forward: (1) HHC promptly respond to the challenged entries within 10 days; or (2) the Parties meet and confer regarding a stipulated process by which Magistrate Judge Farrish can conduct an in camera review of sample entries and provide guidance.

[1] Plaintiffs expressly reserve the right to re-open depositions if they determine materials authored, sent, or received by those witnesses were wrongly withheld for privilege.

Your September 5th letter labeled option (2) "premature," citing a lack of specifics on the challenges being made. (Caseria letter, Sept. 5, 2025 at *2.) While Plaintiffs strongly disagree, Plaintiffs nonetheless have now furnished the requested information.

However, absent some acknowledgement by HHC of the pervasive problems in its approach to date, forcing Plaintiffs to wait weeks only to confront an equally deficient privilege log would not advance resolution. Moreover, given the sheer volume of challenged entries, Magistrate Judge Farrish is unlikely to order in camera review of all challenged documents.

For these reasons, please inform Plaintiffs by October 3, 2025 whether HHC will acknowledge the systemic deficiencies identified by Plaintiffs and provide a date certain by which it will redo its privilege log and produce the documents challenged herein. Absent such a commitment, the Parties are at an impasse on these issues and Plaintiffs request a final meet and confer so that these issues can be teed up for the Court.

1. Documents Withheld Entirely

None of the explanations provided by HHC come close to explaining why 48,470 of 52,101 entries on HHC's privilege log (93%) are withheld in full rather than partially redacted. This is particularly troubling for: (a) emails involving legal professionals who are neither senders nor recipients, apparently indicating that the email is relaying some legal advice; and (b) attachments where the privilege description provides no justification as to why the attachment, as opposed to the parent email, was privileged.

For example:

- PLHHC-BROWN-0002702 is an email from Tricia Hasselman to various non-attorney employees of HHC with the subject line "RE: Anthem/Hartford HealthCare Corporation Notice and Data Request" and the privilege description "Email requesting confidential legal advice of counsel regarding contract issues." This document was withheld in its entirety even though no attorney was on the communication, and the subject line highly suggests that the primary purpose of the email was business, as opposed to legal, in nature.

- PLHHC-BROWN-0003003 is an email from Sophia Jackson to David Zinkerman with the subject line "RE: Most UTD AWV Payer Reimbursement Rates" and the privilege description "Email requesting confidential legal advice of counsel regarding internal legal review." This document was withheld in its entirety even though no attorney is on the communication, and the subject line highly suggests that the primary purpose of the email was business, as opposed to legal, in nature.

- PLHHC-BROWN-0044341 is an email from David Zinkerman to Tricia Hasselman with the subject line "RE: BlueCare Prime" and the privilege description "Email requesting confidential legal advice of counsel regarding contract issues." This document was withheld in its entirety even though no attorney is on the communication, and the subject line highly suggests that the primary purpose of the email was business, as opposed to legal, in nature.

- PLHHC-BROWN-0037804 is an email from Tricia Hasselman to David Zinkerman with the subject line "RE: BlueCare Prime" and the privilege description "Email requesting confidential legal advice of counsel regarding contract issues." This document was withheld in its entirety even though no attorney is on the communication, and the subject line highly suggests that the primary purpose of the email was business, as opposed to legal, in nature. This email was sent two minutes after the one found at PLHHC-BROWN-0044341 and appears to be a reply thereto. The fact that Hasselman and Zinkerman are exchanging emails about this topic without any attorney even being copied renders the possibility that this exchange was done for purposes of seeking, providing, or relaying legal advice highly improbable.

Attachment A indicates entries challenged on this basis under the column "Documents Improperly Withheld Entirely."

2. "Need to Know"

Contrary to your letter's assertion, Plaintiffs did not "confirm" whether any of the communications at issue involved legal advice. (Caseria letter, Sept. 5, 2025, at *3) Rather, Plaintiffs asked HHC to confirm that its privilege analysis vis-à-vis corporate employees accounted for the "need to know" waiver issue raised by Plaintiffs – i.e., that sharing legal advice beyond necessary employees constitutes waiver. (Ruan letter, July 31, 2025, at *6; Ruan letter, Aug. 26, 2025, at *2-3.) HHC declined, placing the burden instead on Plaintiffs to unilaterally determine—based on evidence extrinsic to HHC's privilege log—whether each recipient "was in a position to act or rely on the advice at issue." (Caseria letter, Sept. 5, 2025, at *3.)

Since HHC both: (a) failed to substantiate in its privilege log that each of the employees on a particular communication needed to know the legal advice being relayed; and (b) refuses to confirm that its privilege log analysis in fact accounted for such potential waiver, the Parties are at an impasse on this issue.

3. Attachments

Your letter seeks clarification on "where the dispute lies" with respect to attachments. (Caseria Letter, Sept. 5, 2025, at *4.) The dispute concerns HHC's repeated use of privilege descriptions for attachments that merely state the document was attached to a communication seeking legal advice, without demonstrating that the attachment itself was for that purpose.

Given (a) how HHC's privilege log descriptions were drafted, (b) the high volume of attachments HHC later conceded were not privileged, and (c) the frequency with which attachments were withheld entirety as opposed to redacted, Plaintiffs reasonably believe HHC broadly claimed privilege for all attachments without verifying that the attachment was itself sent for the purpose of providing or obtaining legal advice.

For example:

- PLHHC-BROWN-0006376 is an attachment titled "HHC_Subscriber Communication.pdf" which was attached to an email with no sender information and was received by Tricia Hasselman, Thomas Quinlan, and Rebecca Grosso with the subject line "ICP Anthem Communication." The title suggests the attachment was shared publicly and the email suggests the same; no attorney is listed as the author of the attachment and no attorney is listed on the email itself. The privilege description states, "Attached to Email relaying legal advice of counsel regarding contract issues," thus providing no indication why the attachment itself—as opposed to the email—would be privileged.

- PLHHC-BROWN-0016895 is an attachment titled "2022_11_01 Hartford Hospital Rate Exhibit INFLATOR DRAFT v 2.docx" which was attached to an email from Sarah Hamilton to Michelle Cornelio with the subject line "RE: HHC Proposals - and Please review Amendment and Addendum." No attorney is listed as the author of the attachment and no attorney is listed on the email itself, yet the privilege description states, "Attached to email requesting confidential legal advice of counsel regarding contract issues." No explanation is provided why the attachment itself, as opposed to the email, would be privileged. Similarly, no explanation is provided as to how legal advice could be requested when no attorney is on the communication.

- PLHHC-BROWN-0016896 is an attachment titled "2022_11_01 Midstate Medical Center Rate Exhibit.docx" attached to the same email as PLHHC-BROWN-0016895 and provides the same privilege description. Again, no explanation is provided why the attachment itself, as opposed to the email, would be privileged, and no explanation is provided as to how legal advice could be requested when no attorney is on the communication.

- PLHHC-BROWN-0040963 is an attachment titled "Fwd_ Price Transparency.msg" which was attached to an email from Janet Lee Joniglan to various HHC employees with the subject line "RE: Price Transparency." No attorney is included on the email or attachment, yet the privilege description states, "Attached to Email relaying request for legal advice of counsel regarding regulatory issues." No indication is provided why the attachment itself—as opposed to the email—would be privileged, nor is there any explanation as to how legal advice could be requested when no attorney is included on the communication.

Attachment A indicates entries challenged on this basis under the column "Improperly Withheld Attachments."

4. Subject Matter

Plaintiffs previously noted that many entries on HHC's privilege contain vague, conclusory privilege descriptions suggestive of business rather than legal purposes or are otherwise insufficient to justify privilege. (Ruan letter, Aug. 26, 2026, at *5.)

For example:

- PLHHC-BROWN-0002908 and PLHHC-BROWN-0002909 are an email and attachment both withheld in their entirety. The email was sent from Thomas Quinlan to David Zinkerman and the attachment was sent by Integrated Care Partners to Thomas Quinlan. The email has the subject line "RE: CONFIDENTIAL AND PRIVILEGED: RE: ICP United Communication" and the privilege description "Email requesting and providing legal advice from counsel regarding contract issues." The attachment has the title "UnitedHealthcare Announcement.msg" and the privilege description "Attached to Email requesting and providing legal advice from counsel regarding contract issues." Despite the parent email being labeled as confidential and privileged, nothing about these entries suggest that either the parent or the attachment is in fact privileged. No explanation is provided as to how legal advice can be sought regarding a seemingly public "announcement" when no attorney is even included on the communication.

- PLHHC-BROWN-0002709 is an email from Tricia Hasselman to various non-attorney HHC employees with the subject line "RE: Mediquick Cheshire: NBC news meeting." No attorney is included on the email, yet the privilege description states, "Email requesting confidential legal advice of counsel regarding contract issues." No explanation is provided as to how legal advice could be requested when no attorney is on the communication.

- PLHHC-BROWN-0008757 is an email from Jenna Miller to Tricia Hasselman and Janet Joniglan with the subject line "RE: SVMC Rate Cap." No attorney is included on the email, yet the privilege description states, "Email requesting and providing legal advice from counsel regarding insurance issues." No explanation is provided as to how legal advice could be requested when no attorney is on the communication.

Your letter requests that Plaintiffs specifically identify which entries are being challenged on the basis. Attachment A identifies these under "Lacking Subject Matter Information."

5. Draft Documents

Thank you for confirming HHC's understanding of its obligations regarding draft documents and for agreeing to produce certain documents accordingly. (Caseria letter, Sept. 5, 2025, at *4-5.) Discussions here have been productive, with apparent resolution on this issue.

Plaintiffs continue to review HHC's most recent supplemental privilege log and document productions and will raise any further concerns as needed.

6. Documents Failing to Identify a Particular Attorney

While both sides have submitted conflicting legal authorities concerning whether privilege logs must identify specific attorneys versus generic legal departments, the parties remain at an impasse. (Ruan letter, Aug. 26, 2025, at *6.) Rather than acknowledging this impasse, your letter simply asserts—without addressing any of the authority provided by Plaintiffs—"You [Plaintiffs] are wrong." (Caseria letter, Sept. 5, 2025, at *5.)

Plaintiffs maintain their legal position mandating identification of specific legal professionals to satisfy attorney-client privilege requirements. See Wultz v. Bank of China Ltd., 979 F. Supp. 2d 479, 497 (S.D.N.Y. 2013) (finding reference to "legal and compliance department" inadequate to establish attorney-client privilege and ordering party to amend privilege log to identify specific individuals so that other party could determine if persons providing legal advice were admitted to the bar); In re Rivastigmine Pat. Litig., 237 F.R.D. 69, 83 (S.D.N.Y. 2006) ("The plaintiffs claim attorney-client privilege for a number of documents for which the plaintiffs have listed a department as the legal professional whose involvement gives rise to the privilege. The obvious problem with these documents is that only communications with attorneys and those working under their direct supervision are entitled to the attorney-client privilege. Without information identifying the individuals involved in the particular communications, it is impossible for the plaintiffs to meet their burden of establishing the 'attorney' element of the attorney-client privilege."); A & R Body Specialty & Collision Works, Inc. v. Progressive Cas. Ins. Co., No. 3:07CV929 WWE, 2013 WL 6044342, at *4 (D. Conn. Nov. 14, 2013) (ordering party to produce documents identified in privilege log as being "prepared by [party's] legal department" for failing to meet burden of establishing applicability of attorney-client privilege).

Since HHC has also not altered its legal position on this issue, the Parties – as Plaintiffs already pointed out – are at an impasse.

Attachment A lists entries challenged on this basis under "No Specific Attorney Identified"; entries being challenged on the basis that the involved attorney does not appear on the communication at all (i.e., they are neither a sender nor a recipient/copy) are listed under "No Attorney On Email."

7. Documents Merely Copying Attorneys

Similar to the discussion above regarding attachments, and as already explained in my last letter, the dispute here is less about legal standards and more about HHC's application—i.e., whether HHC conducted sufficient analysis to verify the primary purpose of documents copying attorneys was legal advice and whether the privilege log provides sufficient detail to establish the same.

Given (a) the vague, conclusory, and repetitive privilege descriptions; (b) the high concession rate for challenged documents, and (c) the frequency with which attachments were withheld entirety as opposed to redacted, Plaintiffs reasonably believe that HHC, in practice, marked any document privileged which copied an attorney (as opposed to conducting a substantive assessment of whether the content of the document itself contained legal advice).

For example:

- PLHHC-BROWN-0001771 is an email withheld in its entirety that was sent from David Zinkerman to James Cardon, copying attorney Kyle Lanning, with the subject line "ICP Anthem Communication." The privilege description is "Email relaying legal advice of counsel regarding marketing issues." Given the subject line (a communication with Anthem) and the subject matter ("marketing issues"), it is highly unlikely that the primary purpose of this communication was obtaining legal advice as opposed to business matters.

- PLHHC-BROWN-0023343 is an email from Jenna Miller to various HHC employees, copying various others including attorney Daniel Kalosieh, with the subject line "RE: Anthem Limited Network for the State of CT - WILL NEED TO DISCUSS STRATEGY." The privilege description is "Email requesting confidential legal advice of counsel regarding insurance issues." Given the subject line ("NEED TO DISCUSS STRATEGY") and the subject matter ("insurance issues"), it is highly unlikely that the primary purpose of this communication was obtaining legal advice as opposed to business matters. See also PLHHC-BROWN-0023501; PLHHC-BROWN-0023506; PLHHC-BROWN-0033827; PLHHC-BROWN-0034757; PLHHC-BROWN-0034808; PLHHC-BROWN-0034831; PLHHC-BROWN-0038376; PLHHC-BROWN-0039014; PLHHC-BROWN-0041849; PLHHC-BROWN-0052622 (different emails within same chain).[2]

[2] One entry on HHC's prior privilege logs (PLHHC-BROWN-0041852) no longer appears on the most recent privilege log produced on August 29, 2025. Please explain what happened to this entry. If this

- PLHHC-BROWN-0033961 is an email from Tricia Hasselman to various HHC employees, copying attorney David Mack, with the subject line "RE: Payer Strategy Session." The privilege description is "Email requesting confidential legal advice of counsel regarding contract issues." Given the subject ("Payer Strategy Session") and the fact that the only attorney, David Mack, is merely copied strongly suggests that business, as opposed to legal advice, was the primary purpose of this email.

Attachment A identifies the entries challenged on this basis under "Attorney Merely Copied."

8. Third-Party Senders or Recipients

HHC confirmed it is not asserting common interest privilege with respect to McKinsey or VMG but there are "certain limited cases" where McKinsey or VMG "provided necessary information in order for attorneys to render legal advice." (Caseria letter, August 15, 2025, at *6-7.) Plaintiffs disagree that privilege is maintained when third parties such as McKinsey or VMG participate in allegedly privileged communications.

For example:

- PLHHC-BROWN-0033980 is an email withheld in its entirety that was sent from Kyle Lanning to various HHC and non-HHC persons, including Ankur Agrawal at McKinsey, with the subject line "RE: Weekly RBE Prep." The privilege description is "Email requesting confidential legal advice of counsel regarding transaction legal issues." Since HHC is not claiming common interest privilege with respect to McKinsey, inclusion of Mr. Agrawal on this email waives any privilege as to this document.

Attachment A identifies the entries challenged on this basis under "Waiver for Failing to Maintain Confidentiality."[3]

9. Common Interest Privilege

Contrary to the assertion made in your letter, Plaintiffs have not conceded the applicability of the common interest privilege as to any of the entries on HHC's privilege log. (Caseria letter, Sept. 5, 2025, at *6.) While no dispute presently exists regarding the general legal standard for asserting common interest privilege, Plaintiffs continue to evaluate whether HHC's privilege log in fact document was subsequently taken off the privilege log and produced, please provide the production Bates number and explain why – unlike other entries HHC rescinded its privilege assertion – HHC did not simply change the designation to "Not Privileged" yet maintain the entry in the log.

[3] After creating the list used to create Attachment A, HHC subsequently changed its position to remove some of these documents from its privilege log. To the extent HHC has already removed them from its privilege log, Plaintiffs are no longer challenging those entries.

provides sufficient information to establish its applicability for each entry so indicated and will promptly raise any deficiencies.

Please advise by October 3, 2025 whether HHC will acknowledge the systemic deficiencies identified by Plaintiffs and provide a date certain by which it will redo its privilege log and produce the documents challenged herein. Absent such a commitment, the Parties are at an impasse on these issues and Plaintiffs request a final meet and confer so that these issues can be teed up for the Court.

Very truly yours,
