Re: *Estuary Transit District, et al. v. Hartford Healthcare Corporation, D. Conn.,
Case No. 3:24-cv-01051-SFR*

Dear Counsel:

This letter responds to your letter dated September 25, 2025 regarding the privilege log produced by Defendants Hartford Healthcare Corporation, Hartford Hospital, Hartford Healthcare Medical Group, Inc., and Integrated Care Partners, LLC (collectively, "HHC"). As part of our continuing meet and confer efforts, we are simultaneously producing a further revised privilege log together with a number of downgraded documents.

That said, it is far from clear that Plaintiffs are willing to work with HHC in the spirit of compromise to narrow any outstanding issues. Each time HHC provides the additional information that Plaintiffs seek, Plaintiffs respond by broadening their objections, inserting new issues, asking for yet more information on the log, and/or challenging new documents.

In that connection, we note that while Plaintiffs' August 26 letter included an Exhibit A identifying 27,732 privilege log entries that Plaintiffs apparently challenged, Plaintiffs' most recent September 25 Attachment A ("Attachment A") now lists 32,293 documents, of which 6,272 are new documents that were not previously specifically identified. These documents were not newly added to the previously revised privilege log, and so Plaintiffs have been fully aware of their existence and HHC's related privilege claims for some time now. Accordingly, we are surprised that any issues related to these documents were not previously identified on Exhibit A to your August 26 letter.

It would be reasonable to expect that as a result of the many meet and confer letters exchanged and compromises that HHC already has made in a good faith effort to address Plaintiffs' vague and blanket objections, the number of documents in dispute would decrease rather than increase. In your most recent September 25 letter, you conceded that, as a result of HHC's efforts, the parties have resolved at least some disputes, including a dispute over certain draft emails. And a comparison of your August 26 Exhibit A to the September 25 Attachment A also reveals that roughly 1,711 documents that were previously on Exhibit A are no longer on Attachment A, which lead us to the reasonable conclusion that any disputes over those documents have been resolved. Nonetheless, Plaintiffs seem determined to create an artificial "impasse."

For example, neither your August 26 letter nor your September 25 letter identified any specific documents that Plaintiffs dispute based on HHC's assertions of common interest. Yet, your September 25 letter asserts that Plaintiffs continue to "evaluate" the sufficiency of HHC's claims of common interest and "will promptly raise any deficiencies." Plaintiffs cannot cling to a non-existent issue in the hope of artificially manufacturing a purported "impasse."

Given Plaintiffs' ever expanding demands, it is not clear what HHC must (or even could) do to satisfy Plaintiffs' insatiable appetite for more detail on the privilege log, short of revealing the actual privileged content of the documents, which HHC is not obliged to do. NovaFund Advisors v. Capitala Group, No. 3:18-CV-01023-MPS-TOF, 2021 WL 2109112, at *2 (D. Conn. May 25, 2021) ("privilege description'...must be fulsome enough to enable the other party to assess the privilege claim, yet not so detailed as to reveal the information being protected.").

Your letter leaves open the possibility that Plaintiffs may challenge additional documents, which suggests that Plaintiffs are unwilling to compromise and will simply keep increasing the list of challenges as HHC works to resolve prior challenges. Of course, the role of the meet and confer process is to narrow the scope of disputed issues with which to burden the Court, which necessarily involves each party making certain compromises and modifications to its position. Contrary to Plaintiffs' hyperbole, HHC's responsiveness to Plaintiffs' purported concerns and HHC's efforts to narrow the parties' dispute by making certain meet and confer compromises – whether by revising the log to provide additional information or producing some documents – do not reveal "systematic" issues with HHC's privilege log, especially given HHC's very large productions and the fact that this case involves a highly regulated industry and "complex commercial transactions" which necessarily implicate substantial legal discussion and advice. Gen. Elec. Co. v. United States, No. 14-CV-190 (JAM), 2015 WL 5443479, at *1 (D. Conn. Sept. 15, 2015) (holding that, "in view of the kinds of complex commercial transactions at issue in this case and with their substantial legal regulatory overtones, it is far from surprising that GE would validly claim privilege to a large proportion of responsive documents."). If anything, HHC's efforts to date demonstrate its willingness – in good faith – to work with Plaintiffs and resolve issues.

Below, we address the particular issues raised in your letter.

1. Documents Withheld Entirely

Plaintiffs argue that “48,470 of 52,101 entries on HHC’s privilege log (93%) are withheld in full rather than partially redacted” which, according to Plaintiffs, in itself supposedly suggests a “systematic” issue with the privilege log. Initially, your numbers are incorrect. In fact, 46,712 entries on the August 29, 2025 were withheld, and that number has since declined as a result of HHC’s most recent efforts to conduct yet another review of the documents on the privilege log. HHC’s October 20, 2025 privilege log now includes 37,676 fully-withheld documents.

You cite to no cases condemning a privilege log simply based on the percentage of documents that have been withheld as opposed to redacted, and we are aware of none. Cf. Gen. Elec., 2015 WL 5443479, at *1. Nevertheless, we have conducted a reasonable re-review and downgraded documents where appropriate.

You argue that the percentage of withheld documents noted on HHC’s August 29, 2025 privilege log was “particularly troubling” for emails “involving legal professionals who are neither senders nor recipients, apparently indicating that the email is relaying some legal advice.”¹ There is nothing “troubling” about HHC withholding documents that relay request for and/or legal advice of counsel. Initially, as you should be aware, the source of the sender and recipient information on the log is the available metadata for each document, which is extracted only at the level of the top email.² This is due to limitations inherent in electronic metadata extraction. Thus, even though the privilege log entries for some emails may not list an attorney as a sender or recipient, earlier emails in that same chain may, and in many cases do, include an attorney as a sender and/or a recipient who was requested to provide and/or provided legal advice (which was later relayed), or who requested collection of information or documents to assist the attorney with the provision of legal advice – as noted on the log.

In such cases, the “Legal Professional Involved” field identifies the relevant attorney(s). That HHC would claim privilege as to such emails is wholly unsurprising.³ SCM Corp. v. Xerox Corp., 70 F.R.D. 508, at 518 (D. Conn. 1976) (holding that “[i]t would be an unnecessary restriction of the privilege to consider it lost when top management personnel discuss legal advice” and that “[a] discussion between executives of legal advice should be privileged.”); In re Martinez Sampedro, No. 3:18-MC-47 (JBA), 2020 WL 8922834, at *2-3 (D. Conn. Mar. 2, ¹ Because Section 1 of your letter, pertaining to “Documents Withheld Entirely,” only makes a conclusory reference to entries that do not identify a specific attorney as opposed to “Legal” or “Legal Department, we more specifically address this issue in Section 6 of this letter which responds to arguments in the same section of your September 25 letter.

² The same is true for other information, such as the subject line, which may have changed from the root or earlier emails to the top email. When that occurs, the extracted metadata would only reflect the subject line information for the top email.

³ We address your “need to know” arguments below. Suffice it say that we have now confirmed multiple times that all of the recipients of legal advice indeed were in a position to act upon such advice based on their positions and responsibilities as indicated on HHC’s org charts.

2020) (noting, “the distribution within a corporation of legal advice received from its counsel does not, by itself, vitiate the privilege”).

An example of a document in this category is PLHHC-BROWN-0002908, which you also identify in your letter, and was properly withheld. While the metadata of the top email does not reflect that the two emails directly below the top email in that chain included inhouse attorney Kyle Lanning as both a sender and a recipient, to whom a request for legal advice was directed and who (jointly with inhouse attorney John D’Ambrosio) provided legal advice, the “Legal Professional Involved” field identifies both attorneys.⁴ The subject line, “RE: CONFIDENTIAL AND PRIVILEGED: RE: ICP United Communication” makes clear that the advice sought and received related to an “ICP United Communication,” which concerned contract issues as noted in the privilege description. The top email further relays that request for and legal advice, and additionally relays a further request to non-attorney David Zinkerman regarding the legal advice conveyed in the earlier email. While we believe the log sufficiently explains the basis for privilege, we have, in an attempt to alleviate any conceivable concerns, manually revised the relevant entry to make it even more clear, in the spirit of compromise. The new log now describes the privilege as “Email collecting information requested by in-house counsel Kyle Lanning for the purpose of providing legal advice regarding ICP communications relating to United Healthcare contract renewal and relaying emails requesting and receiving legal advice from Mr. Lanning.”

PLHHC-BROWN-0001868 is another example reflecting a 5/14/2021 email string with subject line “RE: Cigna Network Invitation: Follow up on Contract Sent” with a privilege description of “Email relaying legal advice of counsel regarding contract issues.” The emails throughout the chain reference the need to seek legal advice from or “loop in” inhouse attorney “Kyle [Lanning]” and also relay legal advice directly from Mr. Lanning earlier in the chain. Specifically, one of the emails in the chain relays advice from “Legal,” forwarding to the group an email from Mr. Lanning which also copies other attorneys from the legal department (Debra Cardinali and David Mack). While the metadata of the top email does not reflect the fact that these attorneys were senders/recipients earlier in the chain, the log correctly reflects all three attorneys in the “Legal Professional Involved” field. It is unclear what other information Plaintiffs require regarding this privilege claim.⁵

In these circumstances, and in light of the information already provided, HHC is not required to manually add the same information to the sender/recipient fields for all earlier emails in every chain, where that information is not readily available in the document’s electronic metadata. This is particularly the case given the number of documents at issue and the undue burden involved. As Plaintiffs’ own cited case recognizes, “Details concerning time, persons, general subject matter etc., may be appropriate if only a few items are withheld, but may be

To the extent Plaintiffs claim that such unduly burdensome effort is nonetheless required here, despite the information already available in the “legal Professional Involved” field, please provide us with specific citation to authority imposing such a redundant requirement.

Similarly, it is entirely appropriate to claim privilege as to emails where one or more individuals on the email chain are relaying either legal advice or a request for legal advice from/to a specified attorney who is not listed as either the recipient or the sender. For example, you do not explain why an email from non-attorney Trisha Hasselman to other members of the ICP contracting team, explaining that inhouse attorneys Kyle Lanning or Dan Kalosieh provided certain legal advice on a draft United contract would lose its privileged status simply because neither attorney is listed as either the sender or a recipient of the email. SCM, 70 F.R.D. at 518; In re Martinez Sampedro, 2020 WL 8922834, at *2-3. In every such case, the log identifies those attorneys in the Legal Professional Involved field. Although unclear, it appears that your challenge to this category of documents is based entirely on the “need to know” of the individuals to whom that privileged information is relayed. Accordingly, we direct you to our response to that issue in Section 2 below. We are aware of no other purported basis for this argument. To the extent you contend otherwise, please identify such bases, including the authority you rely upon to support them.⁶ In that vein, we note that citing to authority for general privilege requirements is insufficient to create an “impasse.”

2. “Need to Know”

You once again unilaterally declare impasse as to this category of documents, claiming that HHC “plac[ed] the burden ... on Plaintiffs to unilaterally determine—based on evidence extrinsic to HHC’s privilege log—whether each recipient “was in a position to act or rely on the advice at issue.” Your assertion at best misstates HHC’s position. But, more importantly, it ignores the relevant Local Rules of this District and the applicable law.

Nothing in the District of Connecticut L. R. Civ. P. (“Local Rule”) 26(e), which identifies the information to be included on a privilege log, requires HHC to provide the “need to know” information on the privilege log itself, and you have cited to no authority interpreting this rule that holds otherwise, as none of your citations interpret or apply Local Rule 26(e). Indeed, many of the jurisdictions from which your cited cases originate have local civil rules with additional or different requirements for privilege logs than Local Rule 26(e). Compare, e.g., S.D.N.Y. & E.D.N.Y. Joint L. Civ. R. 26.2 (providing that, for each document, the log identify “the relationship of the author, addressees, and recipients to each other”).

⁶ In the spirit of compromise, we have further revised the privilege log with respect to the documents you identify in this Section of your letter to provide additional information to aid Plaintiffs’ understanding of HHC’s privilege claim. We also are producing a redacted version of PLHHC-BROWN-0002702, consistent with other versions identified on the log that include or are part of the same thread and were already produced redacted. You may search for these documents on the revised log by their subject line, “RE: Anthem/Hartford HealthCare Corporation Notice and Data Request.”

We also note that Plaintiffs continue to press an issue that has already been completely resolved. HHC has already expressly confirmed that, based on the “org charts detailing the names and titles and reporting structures of [HHC] employees, ... th[e] recipients of legal advice were in a position to act or rely on the advice” – that is, each recipient had a “need to know” the legal advice based on his or her position and responsibilities within the organization. September 5, 2025 Caseria Ltr. at 3 (emphasis added). Plaintiffs do not dispute that a “[c]ourt analyzes the recipient’s ‘need to know’ from two perspectives: ‘(1) the role in the corporation of the employee or agent who receives the communication; and (2) the nature of the communication, that is, whether it necessarily incorporates legal advice.’” Molnlycke Health Care US, LLC v. Greenwood Mktg., LLC, 2024 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 197364, *8 (S.D.N.Y. Oct 29, 2024) (quoting Norton v. Town of Islip, 2015 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 125114, *3 (E.D.N.Y. Sept. 18, 2015)). Instead, Plaintiffs’ only argument appears to be that the privilege log itself must identify all bases to sustain a privilege claim, including the “need to know.” But, Plaintiffs cite to no cases holding that evidence “extrinsic” to the privilege log, such as an org chart, cannot be used in this regard. Please let us know if you are aware of any such cases.

Plaintiffs’ demand that this information must be reflected on the log for each and every recipient of legal advice for thousands of documents is also unduly burdensome. A.I.A. Holdings, 2002 WL 31385824, at *3. This undue burden is particularly unfounded given that Local Rule 26(e) imposes no such requirement for privilege logs.

We further note that neither your letter nor the Attachment A thereto even identifies which documents Plaintiffs dispute based on “need to know,” leaving HHC to surmise that Plaintiffs are once again making a blanket challenge to thousands of unidentified documents on this basis, while refusing to consider relevant evidentiary information that is already in their possession.⁷ If Plaintiffs have questions regarding a discrete set of documents, HHC is prepared to address such a request, as it continuously has done in good faith.

Nonetheless, and in the spirit of compromise, we have downgraded and produced a number of documents, and for the documents remaining on the log, we have added a footnote to the log expressly confirming that each recipient or requestor of legal advice listed on the log had a “need to know” the particular legal advice and was in a position to act thereon. To be clear, we have made this representation based on those individuals’ responsibilities and positions and responsibilities within the organization.

In sum, Plaintiffs’ attempt to make something out of nothing fails. If you are aware of any cases interpreting or applying Local Rule 26(e), as you suggest, please identify those authorities. Otherwise, we see no dispute here and certainly no “impasse.”

3. Attachments

You claim “Plaintiffs reasonably believe HHC broadly claimed privilege for all attachments without verifying that the attachment was itself sent for the purpose.” Your belief is far from reasonable. A simple review of HHC's production reveals that HHC's original productions in volumes 1-36 (before HHC downgraded any documents) included over 28,600 attachments to emails listing in-house counsel as a sender or recipient. There is no systematic problem or issue to resolve. Documents were individually reviewed and produced or withheld as appropriate.

⁷ We further note that while Plaintiffs’ September 25 Attachment A identifies 111 documents as to which Plaintiffs claim there was a purported “waiver for failing to maintain confidentiality,” Plaintiffs’ position regarding those documents is based on their assertion that the documents included “Third-Party Senders or Recipients” such as McKinsey or VMG, and not based on “need to know.” See September 25, 2025 Ruan Letter at 8.

While there are entirely too many such documents to list, some examples include the following:

- HHC-BROWN-02205725-02205741 (email and all attachments produced without redaction);
- HHC-BROWN-02210825-02210892 (same);
- HHC-BROWN-03408289-03408465 (same);
- HHC-BROWN-05584368-05584414 (same);
- HHC-BROWN-02251997-02252047 (same);
- HHC-BROWN-02266272-02266347 (same);
- HHC-BROWN-02269678-02269693 (same);
- HHC-BROWN-05545487-05545560 (same, but redacting PHI/PPI on some attachments);
- HHC-BROWN-03155047-03155302 (email and all attachments produced without redaction);
- HHC-BROWN-05588133-05588151 (same);
- HHC-BROWN-03686510-03686757 (withholding only 2 out of 15 attachments to email listing inhouse counsel, which reflect legal comments, including from attorney Jackie Hoell who is also listed on the parent email; the rest of the attachments and the email produced without redaction);
- HHC-BROWN-05584364-5584367 (while the second email in the chain lists attorney David Mack as a recipient, the email and attachments all produced without redaction);
- HHC-BROWN-05608471-05608484 (second email in the chain partially redacted for relaying legal advice from attorney David Mack, as reflected on the log at PLHHC-BROWN-0026352-5608484, but attachment produced without redaction);
- HHC-BROWN-06545567-06545572 (while the top two emails in the chain to/from attorney Kevin Tuttle have been redacted as reflected on the pre-2018 productions privilege log at PLHHC-BROWN-0065690, the attachment was produced without redaction);
- HHC-BROWN-02208163-02208193 (email and attachment produced without redaction);

- HHC-BROWN-02209074-02209120 (same);
- HHC-BROWN-02209632 (email and both attachments produced without redaction).

In contrast, privileged attachments appropriately have been withheld, including, inter alia, because they (a) reflect legal advice of counsel (e.g., redlines reflecting comments from legal); (b) were provided to counsel in connection with request for legal advice (e.g., emails sending a draft contract to inhouse counsel and asking for input or response to opposing party); or (c) reflect efforts to collect information or documents to assist counsel with providing legal advice (e.g., information to support legal arguments in a in a regulatory filing).

Upon a further reasonable re-review, conducted in good faith pursuant to our meet and confer discussions and in an effort to bring these issues to a close, HHC has downgraded an additional 7,660 attachments, 6,857 of which are being produced fully unredacted.

4. Subject Matter

Thank you for identifying the discrete documents that you claim purportedly lacked sufficient subject matter information both in your letter and Attachment A. While we disagree that the “subject line/Document Title” field – the source of which is each document’s electronic metadata – is not sufficiently descriptive, we have manually revised the log entries for certain documents, where appropriate, to provide additional information. HHC also has downgraded an additional 285 documents in this category, of which 223 are being produced fully unredacted.

We do not believe any dispute remains as to this category of documents. If you disagree, please explain and identify the specific documents from Attachment A as to which HHC continues to maintain a claim of privilege and as to which you continue to make this assertion after our further review and revisions.

5. Draft Documents

In your September 25 letter, you indicated that “Plaintiffs continue to review HHC’s most recent supplemental privilege log and document productions and will raise any further concerns as needed” regarding draft documents. You have not identified any further issues since that communication nearly a month ago. Nonetheless, HHC has downgraded an additional 35 documents in this category, of which 18 are being produced fully unredacted.

Accordingly, we do not believe any dispute remains as to this category of documents. If you disagree, please explain.

6. Documents “Failing to Identify a Particular Attorney”

Initially, “just because the legal advice is shared with other executives, or is the subject of discussion amongst other executives, does not mean it loses its privilege.” MacDermid, Inc. v. Raymond Selle & Cookson Group PLC, No. 3:07 CV 1566 (JBA), 2009 WL 10689349, at *2 (D. Conn. Jan. 14, 2009) (citing SCM Corp., 70 F.R.D. at 518). We further explained in our August 15 letter and again reiterated in our September 5 letter (both of which you failed to substantively address):

HHC employees often refer in emails to advice from the ‘legal’ department or from a particular law firm, without identifying a specific attorney by name. In such instances, we have provided as much information as we have by listing the HHC legal department or the applicable law firm as the legal professional. . . . No case cited by Plaintiffs holds that generally referencing in-house or outside counsel is not permitted or results in waiver of attorney-client privilege” and that such a “logic would lead to the absurd result that memoranda from law firms, without listing a specific attorney, would be deemed not privileged.

SheppardMullin

In our September 5 letter, we also cited additional authority directly addressing and rejecting the specific position you assert here.⁸ Rather than responding to our arguments and cited authority, you instead declare “impasse” because the parties purportedly “submitted conflicting legal authorities” on this issue. But, Plaintiffs cannot fabricate an “impasse” by ignoring the substance of HHC’s arguments and cited authority, and citing to out of context snippets from a few ambiguous cases. Casanova Entm’t Group, Inc. v. City of New Rochelle, 375 F. Supp. 2d 321, 323 (S.D.N.Y. 2005) (“Since context is so very important and so fact-specific, it necessarily limits the precedential value of any particular decision.”). Plaintiffs have failed to actually respond to the substance of HHC’s arguments and cases. Please let us know if Plaintiffs intend to rely on any additional cases or arguments in responding to HHC’s arguments and cited authority that they thus far have not raised in the parties’ meet and confer.

None of the cases Plaintiffs cite supports Plaintiffs’ broad proposition here, nor reflects any “conflict” with the authorities that HHC identified, which squarely address the issue involved here.

For example, A.I.A Holdings actually goes against Plaintiffs’ position, which may explain why Plaintiffs dropped it from their most recent correspondence. The court noted that while “the attorney-client privilege . . . has been extended to cover communications with an attorney’s subordinate, ... the privilege requires that there be a communication intended to reach, either directly or indirectly, an attorney admitted to practice.” 2002 WL 31385824, at *4 (emphasis added). The court rejected the notion that either the Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(b)(5) or the local rule applicable to privilege logs in that jurisdiction “require[d] an allegation of specific facts” on the privilege log, “establishing an attorney’s admission to the bar at the time of an allegedly privileged communication.” Id. Nothing in that opinion even suggests a requirement that, to sustain a privilege claim, the document must identify a specific lawyer.

⁸ See, e.g., GMO Gamecenter USA, Inc. v. Whinestone US, Corp., 2025 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 153682, *9 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 8, 2025) (rejecting argument that privilege log must “identify . . . specific attorney creating the privilege,” explaining that “there is no such rule,” and further explaining that “courts regularly conclude it is not required.”); In re Allergan PLC Securities Litig., 2021 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 171331, 9 (S.D.N.Y. International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, No. 00-CV-4763, 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 17532, at *4 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 17, 2002) (no additional information required in privilege log where “identity of the specific individual who authored the document could not be ascertained.”); see also In re Diisocyanates Antitrust Litig., No. 18-1001, 2024 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 175477, at 11-12 (W.D. Pa. Liab. Litig., 2017 WL 6757558, at *6 (N.D. Fl. Dec. 29, 2017) (“With regard to those instances where a specific name is not identified, this is not fatal Indeed, it is not uncommon within a complex organization that when a request for information is made by outside counsel communications among corporate employees transmitting the request for information frequently will simply refer to the request as coming from outside counsel as opposed to a specific attorney or law firm. The important inquiry from a privilege perspective is the nature of the communication and the context in which it is made and not necessarily the precise identification of the source of the request for information.”).

A & R Body Specialty & Collision Works, Inc. v. Progressive Cas. Ins. Co., No. 3:07CV929WWE, 2013 WL 6044342, at *4 (D. Conn. Nov. 14, 2013) is likewise unavailing. There, the court rejected the privilege claim as to five documents. While the privilege log “indicate[d] the redacted portions were prepared by Progressive’s legal department,” there is no information in the opinion confirming or refuting that either the documents on their face, or their metadata, actually indicated that they were prepared by the “legal department.” 2013 WL 6044342, at *4. The court rejected the privilege claim not because the documents or the log failed to identify a specific attorney, but because “the faces of the documents d[id] not indicate who prepared them, or for what purpose.” 2013 WL 6044342, at *4. That is, the court in A & R Body Specialty, did not rule, one way or the other, as to whether the documents indicated on their face that they were prepared by the legal department or there was other evidence of the same.

In any event, and in contrast to A&R Body Specialty, many documents in this category, inter alia, (a) list “HHC Legal” or “Legal” as the author or last author of the document in their metadata; (b) show on their face that they were drafted by the HHC Legal Department; (c) relay on their face either a request for legal advice or actual legal advice from “Legal” or “Legal Department”; (c) reflect redline comments expressly from “HHC Legal” or “Legal Department” on the face of the documents; (d) show on their face that they were prepared by a law firm, such as Sheppard Mullin; or (e) show on their face that a law firm, such as Sheppard Mullin made redline edits to the document. A & R Body Specialty simply did not address these circumstances and is not applicable here. Casanova Entm’t Group, 375 F. Supp. 2d at 323.

PLHHC-BROWN-0044341 and PLHHC-BROWN-0037804 are examples of documents that relay request for legal advice from “legal” and “legal department.” The log explains that the emails reflect a request for and legal advice of counsel regarding contract issues and further identifies the specific contractual issue in the subject line as being “BlueCare Prime.” The documents on their face expressly contain references to having “spoken” with legal to obtain legal advice, and the need to be “guided by” “legal” on those issues. The second email further relays the need to have legal “sign off” before taking a proposed action related to this contractual issue. Of course, there is no need for the privilege log to provide this level of detail for every document, or establish every element of HHC’s privilege claim as to each document, and you cite to no cases requiring otherwise. No further information is required under the law.

Wultz v. Bank of China Ltd., 979 F. Supp. 2d 479, 497 (S.D.N.Y. 2013), also fails to advance Plaintiffs’ position here. The defendant in that case was a Chinese bank whose “Legal and Compliance Department consisted of twelve employees ..., [only] six of whom were licensed attorneys.” Id. A declaration from the Chinese bank indicated that “the department ‘routinely provided legal advice’ and that it was the ‘general practice’ of the group ‘to sign responses to requests for legal advice’ as a unit, but confirms that it was ‘not essential’ to be a member of the Chinese bar to join the Department.” Id. Under these circumstances, it was unclear that a lawyer even provided the purported legal advice. Given the general practice of the bank to have non-lawyers sign legal advice with licensed lawyers “as a unit,” regardless of who actually provided the advice in question, the court required additional clarifications to the privilege logs.

This case is vastly different. HHC is not a foreign corporation with ambiguous legal department membership. Members of HHC’s legal department are licensed attorneys or administrative assistants or paralegals working under the direction of the licensed attorneys. In any event, when the log indicates that a document relays legal advice or a request for one from “legal,” “outside counsel,” or “Sheppard Mullin,” that information is reflected in the document. Plaintiffs have no evidence that references to requests for legal advice or actual legal advice from “legal,” “legal department,” “outside counsel,” or a specific law firm in a document have been interpreted to mean non-attorneys.

While an attorney’s subordinate (such as a paralegal or administrative assistant) may relay that legal advice on behalf of and under the direction of the attorney, they do not provide the legal advice. Of course, as A.I.A. Holdings explains, “the [attorney client] privilege has been extended to cover communications with an attorney’s subordinate” but requires “that there be a communication intended to reach, either directly or indirectly, an attorney admitted to practice.” 2002 WL 31385824 at *4. That is indeed the case here.

In sum, Plaintiffs hardly cite to “conflicting” authority. These few cases at best involve unique or ambiguous facts, and fall far short of “conflicting” with the authorities we cited which squarely addressed this issue. More importantly, Plaintiffs ignore the realities of how lay individuals, with no legal training, typically reference requesting or relaying legal advice of counsel in their day to day correspondence. In doing so, Plaintiffs elevate form over substance with no direct authority on point.

Below, we provide examples of the types of documents falling into this category. As to each category, please explain how Plaintiffs intend to justify their position in Court, and if the above authorities are all that Plaintiffs intend rely upon to support their position:

- a. Documents where one of the individuals on the email indicates that before taking certain actions regarding the indicated subject, they should “run it by” legal, “circle”/“vet” with” legal”; or obtain “approval,” “sign off,” “guidance,” or “input” from “legal” or “Legal Department.”⁹
- b. Emails indicating that the team is working with “legal,” or “legal department” to evaluate legal arguments on an indicated issue, such as an audit request/dispute, a draft contract, a draft response or communication before it is shared externally, or details of a transaction such as a joint venture agreement or a carrier contract.¹⁰

⁹ E.g., PLHHC-BROWN-0002702, PLHHC-BROWN-0037804; PLHHC-BROWN-0003003; PLHHC-BROWN-0009131 (redacting the relevant portion both indicating the need to seek advice from “legal” and relaying legal advice from “outside counsel”).

¹⁰ PLHHC-BROWN-0044341 (The log explains that the email reflects and relays a confidential request for legal advice of counsel regarding contract issues and further identifies the specific contractual issue in the subject line as being BlueCare Prime), PLHHC-BROWN-0037804

- c. Documents relaying either legal advice or a request for legal advice from “outside counsel” or indicating that the Legal Department is checking with “outside counsel” on an issue.¹¹
- d. Documents that on their face relay legal advice from a specific law firm, such as Sheppard Mullin, on an indicated issue, including redline edits, memoranda or presentations.¹²
- e. Documents whose electronic meta data expressly indicate that “Legal,” “HHC Legal,” or Legal Department” was an author.¹³
- f. Documents with redlines that on their face show comments from “HHC Legal” or “Legal” but do not have available author information in the metadata field.¹⁴

We note that upon our further re-review, we have downgraded an additional 2,527 documents in this category, of which 1,668 are being produced fully unredacted. We have also further manually revised certain of privilege descriptions to provide additional information/more clarity on HHC’s related privilege claims.

7. Documents With Attorneys Copied

Once again we fail to see where the dispute lies here. As you previously stated: “[C]ommunications are neither privileged nor not privileged merely because an attorney is copied or blind copied.” In other words, whether such communications are privileged depends on their substance and whether they reflect a request for legal advice. See, e.g., Valente v. Lincoln Nat. Corp., No. 3:09cv693 (MRK), 2010 WL 3522495, at *4 (D. Conn. Sept. 2, 2010) (privilege applied to emails “providing factual information and also either implicitly or explicitly seeking legal advice from counsel”); A & R Body Specialty, 2013 WL 6044342, at *5 (“privilege attaches to emails providing in-house counsel with factual information and also implicitly or explicitly seeking legal advice”).

Despite your concession noted above, you initially demanded that HHC “undertake . . . further review” of 2,272 documents solely based on the fact that that attorneys are “copied” on those documents. Your Attachment A now identifies 2,669 documents on this basis. Please explain why the number of documents in dispute is growing at the same time that you concede that the fact of an attorney being copied is of no consequence.

Notably, HHC’s production includes documents where attorneys are copied, demonstrating that it HHC did not blindly claiming privilege in every case an attorney was “copied” on a document, but instead reviewed each document and considered the document’s substance.

HHC has properly claimed privilege where the relevant emails from HHC employees conveyed factual information to inhouse counsel – even if “copied” on the email – and also implicitly or explicitly sought legal advice of counsel. Examples include PLHHC-BROWN-0023343 and the 11 other emails in the same chain that you identify in your letter,¹⁵ all of which copied attorney Daniel Kalosieh on emails where HHC employees were “providing in-house counsel with factual information and also implicitly or explicitly seeking legal advice” regarding contractual issues arising from “Anthem Limited Network for the State of CT,” and seeking to “discuss a strategy.” A & R Body Specialty, 2013 WL 6044342, at *5; Valente, 2010 WL 3522495, at *4.¹⁶ Your speculation that the reference in the subject line to the “NEED TO DISCUSS STRATEGY” somehow demonstrates “it is highly unlikely that the primary purpose of this communication was obtaining legal advice as opposed to business” is wrong. The substance of the communications themselves demonstrate a contractual dispute over the issue to which Mr. Kalosieh was being alerted and as to which HHC employees were seeking legal advice. There is no basis for your presumption that “strategy” can only refer to business strategy and not legal strategy.

¹⁵ The other 11 emails in the chain, which you identified are PLHHC-BROWN-0023501, PLHHC-BROWN-0023506, PLHHC-BROWN-0033827, PLHHC-BROWN-0034757, PLHHC-BROWN-0034808, PLHHC-BROWN-0034831, PLHHC-BROWN-0038376, PLHHC-BROWN-0039014, PLHHC-BROWN-0041849, PLHHC-BROWN-0052622, and PLHHC-BROWN-0001261 (erroneously identified as PLHHC-BROWN-0041852).

¹⁶ The privilege log entries for 10 out of these 12 documents correctly state that the legal advice sought pertained to “contract issues.” We have corrected the remaining two entries that indicated the advice pertained to “insurance issues.”

Moreover, Plaintiffs have not cited a single case holding that a claim of privilege is lost solely because an attorney happens to be “copied” on the emails (as opposed to being listed in the “To” or “From” field). If you are aware of such authority, please provide those citations. Your general citations to cases for the unremarkable proposition that merely copying attorneys on correspondence does not make the communication either “privileged nor not privileged” is insufficient to create a purported “impasse.” Nor do such general citations justify a further review of the documents in this category.

Regardless, HHC did undertake a further review based on which HHC has downgraded 341 documents of which 239 are being produced fully unredacted.

8. McKinsey and VMG

As our September 5 letter explained, we “re-reviewed the documents to or from McKinsey and VMG and removed certain documents from HHC’s privilege log, which were produced on August 29.” In your September 25 letter you identified 111 documents that you challenge on this basis. Given that you identified a discrete universe, we conducted a further re-review, and have further downgraded and produced 35 of those documents, but are maintaining HHC’s privilege claim as to the remaining 76 documents (either partially or in full) because the “third party” was acting as an agent of HHC and its work was integral to counsel’s legal advice. As we previously explained, the attorney-client privilege “also applies to [communications with] third party consultants hired by corporations, who possess information needed by attorneys in rendering legal advice. See Viacom, Inc. v. Sumitomo Corp. (In re Copper Mkt. Antitrust Litig.), 200 F.R.D. 213, 219 (S.D.N.Y. 2001) (“there is no reason to distinguish between a person on the corporation’s payroll and a consultant hired by the corporation if each acts for the corporation and possesses the information needed by attorneys in rendering legal advice.”) (citing In re Bieter Co., 16 F.3d 929 (8th Cir. 1994)); Urban Box Office Network, Inc. v. Interfase Managers, L.P., No. 01-CV-8854 (LTS)(THK), 2006 WL 1004472 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 18, 2006) (collecting cases and holding that communications between outside advisor and counsel “to help [the attorney] reach the understanding he needed to furnish legal advice” on a disclosure schedule were privileged).

Without legal authority, and without refuting HHC’s authority to the contrary, Plaintiffs assert that “Plaintiffs disagree that privilege is maintained when third parties such as McKinsey or VMG participate in allegedly privileged communications.” Plaintiffs cannot justify their position by merely declaring a “disagreement,” or citing to inapposite cases that fail to address the particular issues involved here. Spanierman Gallery, Profit Sharing Plan v. Merritt, No. 00CIV5712LTSTHK, 2003 WL 22909160, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 9, 2003), which you cited to support your position did not involve disclosure to the corporation’s consultants who were acting on the corporation’s behalf and possessed information that was necessary to counsel’s legal advice. Instead, that case involved the defendant’s voluntary disclosure of privileged information to the FBI “in order to obtain [the FBI’s] assistance in securing the return of [a] painting” which the FBI had “seized” in connection with an investigation. Id. at *1, *3. In these circumstances, the FBI could not be considered a “consultant” or “outside advisor” of the defendant. Given the different context in which that case arose, plaintiffs’ out-of-context citations to snippets from that case is insufficient to create any “impasse” or refute HHC’s cited authority. Casanova Entm’t Group, 375 F. Supp. 2d at 323.

9. Common Interest Doctrine

As Plaintiffs have failed to identify any disputed documents, despite their statement nearly a month ago that they would “promptly” raise any issues, we deem this issue closed.

Re: Estuary Transit District v. Hartford HealthCare Corp., No. 24-cv-01051 (D. Conn.) –
HHC's Supplemental Privilege Log

Dear Counsel:

Plaintiffs have now completed their review of the 12,836 documents that Defendants Hartford HealthCare Corporation, Hartford Hospital, Hartford HealthCare Medical Group, Inc., and Integrated Care Partners, LLC (collectively, "HHC") downgraded and produced on October 20, 2025. That review confirms—yet again—that HHC's privilege-review processes have been fundamentally deficient, and that thousands of plainly non-privileged documents were withheld for months without justification. Thus, despite the belated production of these downgraded documents, Plaintiffs continue to have serious lingering concerns.

I. Hasselman- , Zinkerman- , and Cardon-Related Documents That Must Be Produced by January 30, 2026.

The close of fact discovery is rapidly approaching and the depositions of Hasselman, Zinkerman, and Cardon are scheduled to take place in late February/early March. Given the importance of these depositions and how little time remains to resolve these issues before these depositions are scheduled to occur, the Parties do not have the luxury of engaging in further meet and confers about documents related to those deponents which, on their face, appear to almost certainly not be privileged.

For example, in a chat log between Tricia Hasselman and David Zinkerman from April 2021, several exchanges are redacted for privilege with HHC's privilege log describing the privilege asserted as "Chat thread relaying legal advice of counsel regarding contract issues" and identifying Kyle Lanning as the legal professional involved. (See HHC-BROWN-05833006 at 08 (PLHHC-BROWN-0039812).) However, Mr. Lanning is not included in the chat thread, nor is he ever even mentioned. Moreover, given the context of the conversation surrounding the redactions, the redacted portions seem almost certainly to not involve legal advice.

In another example, in a chat log between Tricia Hasselman and Michelle Cornelio in February 2022, several messages are redacted for privilege with HHC’s privilege log describing the privilege asserted as “Chat thread relaying request for legal advice of counsel regarding insurance issues” and again identifying Kyle Lanning as the legal professional involved. (See HHC-BROWN-05833024 (PLHHC-BROWN-0039820).) Although later exchanges in the chat log mention Mr. Lanning (which, for the record, appear to be business-related messages as opposed to legal in nature), several earlier messages are redacted where the context makes it nearly impossible that the content reflects legal advice from Mr. Lanning or otherwise:

- Cornelio (6:38 PM): “I’m here all night”
- Hasselman (7:17 PM): “you can edit to make it your own but I sent you a draft email addressing what I think they will want to know...did you have any changes to the excel?”
- Cornelio (7:17 PM): “ok”
- Hasselman (7:18 PM): REDACTED – Privilege
- Cornelio (7:18 PM): “no because you make everything better”

In this exchange, Cornelio gives no indication that she just received some legal advice relayed by Hasselman from an attorney, nor does Hasselman acknowledge a request for legal advice made by Cornelio. In short: there are no indicators that Hasselman’s 7:18 PM message had anything to do with Mr. Lanning or legal advice whatsoever.

Plaintiffs have further identified approximately 417 documents which appear to be highly relevant to these upcoming depositions and are plainly not privileged.¹

For these reasons, Plaintiffs request that these documents, identified in Exhibit A, be produced by January 30, 2026. Alternatively, please provide dates/times that same week on which the Parties can have a final meet and confer so that Plaintiffs can bring a motion to compel.

II. Other Documents Which Must Be Re-Reviewed by February 13, 2026.

For nearly eight months, the Parties have engaged in extensive discussions regarding the serious flaws in HHC’s privilege assertions. During that time, HHC has revised its privilege log at least four times and “re-reviewed” thousands of entries—each time conceding, implicitly or explicitly, that its prior privilege decisions were unsustainable. Indeed, HHC has now downgraded nearly 15,000 documents—documents that should have been produced from the outset and whose belated production demonstrates not compromise, but HHC’s failures.

Despite the volume of its walk-backs, HHC refuses to acknowledge that its original privilege review was deficient. Instead, HHC attempts to characterize its belated corrective actions as

“compromise” and accuses Plaintiffs of manufacturing disputes. These accusations are baseless. The reality is simple: HHC repeatedly and systematically withheld documents without any valid legal basis, and only corrected course when confronted with specific examples and persistent scrutiny.

Plaintiffs’ review of HHC’s latest downgrades confirms what Plaintiffs suspected from the beginning—i.e., that the improperly withheld documents were, on their face, clearly non-privileged. The continued presence of thousands of similar entries on HHC’s privilege log raises the obvious question: How many more non-privileged documents remain withheld?

This question is all the more pressing because HHC has refused to disclose the scope, methodology, or parameters of its so-called “reasonable re-review.” Plaintiffs therefore cannot determine whether the remaining questionable entries were ever re-evaluated, and if so, according to what standards.

Given these circumstances and the impending close of discovery, along with several important depositions for which improperly withheld documents may be critical, Plaintiffs hereby request:

A. Written Explanation of HHC’s Privilege-Related Processes.

HHC must provide a detailed written explanation of:

1. The processes HHC originally used to identify potentially privileged documents and prepare its privilege log;
2. The specific steps and standard applied in its latest “reasonable re-review,” including whether and how Plaintiffs’ previously stated concerns were addressed; and
3. The precise scope of HHC’s most recent “reasonable re-review,” including whether it encompassed all documents identified in Plaintiffs’ September 25, 2025.

These disclosures are essential to evaluating the adequacy of HHC’s privilege assertions and identifying the source of any ongoing deficiencies.

B. Written Confirmation That All Remaining Privilege Assertions Are Legally Defensible.

For each entry in HHC’s latest privilege log, HHC must confirm in writing that:

1. All documents that could be redacted and produced, rather than withheld in their entirety, were in fact redacted and produced;

2. Each attachment has a stand-alone basis for being withheld, independent from its parent (i.e., the attachment itself reflects legal advice, was provided in connection with a request for legal advice, or reflects efforts to collect information to assist the provision of legal advice), and that that stand-alone basis is reflected in HHC's privilege log;
3. All documents merely copying or blind copying attorneys involve situations where the primary purpose of that communication was to obtain legal advice, and that only those portions seeking such advice were redacted or withheld;
4. Every HHC employee included in a communication was someone whose job duties placed them in a position to act or rely upon the legal advice conveyed; and
5. For every third-party (i.e., non-HHC employee and non-attorney) included on a particular communication, that third-party either: (a) shared a common interest with HHC at the time of that communication and that the communication was made in furtherance of that common interest; or (b) was the functional equivalent of an HHC employee (see discussion below).

HHC's refusal to provide these assurances will only validate and intensify Plaintiffs' concerns that privilege continues to be asserted over large swaths of documents without proper analysis.

C. Re-Review of Documents Identified in Exhibit B.

HHC's own re-reviews confirm that it withheld nearly 15,000 documents without a proper basis. Their downgrade reflects an admission, not a defense, and HHC's explanations to date do nothing to justify the prejudice Plaintiffs have already experienced due to their belated production.

As such, HHC must conduct another review of the documents identified in Exhibit B, which Plaintiffs continue to reasonably believe are being improperly withheld or over-redacted, and to produce a revised privilege log and any downgraded documents.

Please let Plaintiffs know by January 26, 2026, if HHC will agree to these requests and to produce any such explanation/confirmation, the revised privilege log, and any downgraded documents by February 9, 2026.

III. Specific Issues and Arguments Raised in HHC's October 20th Letter.

1. Documents Withheld Entirely

Plaintiffs have never argued that a privilege log automatically fails by virtue of the percentage of documents withheld entirely as opposed to being redacted. Rather, Plaintiffs cited the high percentage of fully withheld documents (93%) as one of many reasons supporting our concern that a thorough review of these entries was not conducted.

These concerns were validated when HHC's "reasonable re-review" resulted in a reduction, by HHC's own account, from 46,712 to 37,676 fully withheld documents, or 22%.

As Plaintiffs previously explained, complete withholding is improper unless the entire document comprises privilege communication or the protected legal advice is "so inextricably intertwined with the rest of the text that [it] cannot be separated." Resol. Tr. Corp. v. Diamond, 773 F. Supp. 597, 601 (S.D.N.Y. 1991) (citing Hopkins v. U.S. Dept. of Hous. & Urban Dev., 929 F.2d 81, 85 (2d Cir. 1991)). Courts within the Second Circuit routinely require production of redacted versions when unprivileged portions exist. Breon v. Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of New England, 232 F.R.D. 49, 55 (D. Conn. 2005).

In its October 20, 2025 letter, HHC explains that the high percentage of documents withheld in their entirety involving email chains where an attorney is neither the sender nor the recipient can be explained by the manner in which the metadata is collected and displayed and inherent limitations associated therewith—i.e., "even though the privilege log entries for some emails may not list an attorney as a sender or recipient, earlier emails in that same chain may, and in some cases do, include an attorney as a sender and/or a recipient who was requested to provide and/or provided legal advice (which was later relayed), or who requested collection of information or documents to assist the attorney with the provision of legal advice – as noted on the log." (Caseria letter, Oct 20, 2025, at *3.)

However, this explanation fails to explain why the entire document would be withheld, as opposed to redacting those portions of the email chain actually providing, requesting, or relaying legal advice.

Similarly, HHC provides another (theoretical) example regarding "an email from non-attorney Trisha Hasselman to other members of the ICP contracting team, explaining that inhouse attorneys Kyle Lanning or Dan Kalosieh provided certain legal advice on a draft United contract." (Id. at *5.) HHC then asserts that such a document would not lose its privileged status simply because neither Lanning nor Kalosieh were listed as sender or recipient. (Id.) Plaintiffs agree. However, this example again does not address the issue at hand—i.e., in an email chain forwarding "certain legal advice," why is the entire chain being withheld, as opposed to the portion reflecting that certain legal advice?

For these reasons, Plaintiffs request that HHC re-review those documents identified in Exhibit B.

2. “Need to Know”

HHC’s letter states: “Nothing in the District of Connecticut L. R. Civ. P. 26(e), which identifies the information to be included on a privilege log, requires HHC to provide the ‘need to know’ information on the privilege log itself, and you have cited to no authority interpreting this rule that holds otherwise, as none of your citations interpret or apply Local Rule 26(e).” (Caseria letter, Oct. 20, 2025, at *5.)

Plaintiffs have never taken the position that HHC had to include this information on its privilege log. “Rather, Plaintiffs [have now repeatedly] asked HHC to confirm that its privilege analysis vis-à-vis corporate employees accounted for the ‘need to know’ waiver issue raised by Plaintiffs – i.e., that sharing legal advice beyond necessary employees constitutes waiver.” (Ruan letter, Sept. 25, 2025, at *3 (citing Ruan letter, July 31, 2025, at *6; Ruan letter, Aug. 26, 2025, at *2-3).) HHC continues to confirm as much, despite the ample and as-of-yet undisputed authority provided by Plaintiffs that privilege is otherwise waived when non-essential employees are included on communications involving legal advice. See, e.g., Weber v. FujiFilm Med. Sys. U.S.A., Inc., No.3:10-CV-401-JBA, 2011 WL 677282, at *2 (D. Conn. Jan. 24, 2011) (“[C]ommunications among corporate employees, although not directly to or from corporate counsel, can be privileged if those communications are made among employees who need to know their content” (emphasis added)); People’s United Bank v. PeoplesBank, No. 3:08CV01858 (PCD), 2009 WL 10689492, at *2 (D. Conn. Dec. 28, 2009) (holding that, “[i]n order for the privilege to apply between corporate employees...“the communication should not have been disseminated beyond those persons who need to know the information” (emphasis added)) (citing 2 J. Weinstein & M. Berger, Weinstein’s Evidence, ¶ 503(b)(4) at 503-54).

Tellingly, HHC continues to refuse confirming as much, again fueling Plaintiffs’ suspicions that HHC has asserted privilege over documents for which it has not accounted for this potential waiver issue.

Thus, Plaintiffs once again ask HHC to confirm, in writing, that its privilege log complies with the above legal standard.

3. Attachments

On the one hand, HHC’s letter states: “There is no systematic problem or issue to resolve. Documents were individually reviewed and produced or withheld as appropriate.”

On the other hand, HHC’s letter also states: “Upon a further reasonable re-review, conducted in good faith pursuant to our meet and confer discussions and in an effort to bring these issues to a close, HHC has downgraded an additional 7,660 attachments, 6,857 of which are being produced fully unredacted.”

These two statements are irreconcilable. Unless HHC is asserting that it has now produced privileged materials as part of some sort of compromise—an assertion that is both absurd and easily rejected upon reviewing the downgraded and produced materials—the fact that HHC’s own “reasonable re-review” resulted in the production of thousands of improperly withheld documents severely undermines any claim that those claims were previously “reviewed and produced or withheld as appropriate.”

More importantly, while HHC’s letter lists multiple examples of attachments that it claims were properly withheld (e.g., because they reflect legal advice, were provided in connection with a request for legal advice, or reflect efforts to collect information to assist the provision of legal advice), it fails to address the issue actually raised by Plaintiffs—i.e., that there are numerous entries on HHC’s privilege log pertaining to attachments for which no such description has been asserted.

For example, approximately 200 attachments remain on HHC’s latest privilege log with the description “Attached to email prepared by counsel regarding _____,” thus again failing to establish that the attachments themselves are privileged.

HHC’s privilege log also contains numerous documents claiming to be privileged because they were prepared at the request of legal counsel. However, “[a]document will not become privileged simply because an attorney recommended its preparation if it contains merely business-related or technical communications between corporate employees.” In re Rivastigmine Pat. Litig., 237 F.R.D. 69, 83 (S.D.N.Y. 2006) (quoted approvingly by Vidal v. Metro-North Commuter Ry. Co., No. 3:12-cv-0248-MPS, 2014 WL 413952, at *5 (D. Conn. Feb. 4, 2014)). Rather, securing, conveying, or relaying legal advice must be its predominant purpose. Vidal, 2014 WL 413952, at *4.

For these reasons, Plaintiffs request that HHC re-review those attachments identified in Exhibit B.

4. Subject Matter

Thank you for reviewing the entries Plaintiffs believed lacked sufficient subject matter information, downgrading 285 of them, and providing revised information for others.

Having now reviewed those revised entries, Plaintiffs are now only challenging the sufficiency of the descriptions for those entries identified in Exhibit B.

5. Draft Documents

As noted in our prior correspondence, Plaintiffs believe the Parties have resolved the issues regarding draft documents.

6. Documents Failing to Identify a Particular Attorney

Plaintiffs have already provided ample authority supporting their position that HHC must identify a specific legal professional involved in the communication to assert attorney-client privilege. (See Ruan letter, Sept. 25, 2025, at *6; Ruan letter, July 31, 2025, at *9-10.) Plaintiffs also already acknowledged that there is conflicting authority on this issue. (See Ruan letter, Sept. 25, 2025, at *6; Ruan letter, Aug. 26, 2025, at *6.)

While HHC tries to distinguish some cases cited Plaintiffs (e.g., A.I.A. Holdings, S.A. v. Lehman Bros., 2002 WL 31385824 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 18, 2002), A & R Body Specialty & Collision Works, Inc. v. Progressive Cas. Ins. Co., No. 3:07CV929WWE, 2013 WL 6044342, at *4 (D. Conn. Nov. 14, 2013), and Wultz v. Bank of China Ltd., 979 F. Supp. 2d 479, 497 (S.D.N.Y. 2013)) and completely ignores others (e.g., In re Rivastigmine Pat. Litig., 237 F.R.D. 69, 83 (S.D.N.Y. 2006)), Plaintiffs' position remains the same.

As already explained throughout the meet and confer process, Plaintiffs are not trying to “elevate form over substance.” Rather, Plaintiffs have expressed a legitimate concern, echoed by courts both within this District and beyond, that assertions of privilege involving in-house legal departments must be carefully scrutinized insofar as the lines between legal and business advice are oftentimes blurred. See, e.g., Epic Reference Labs, Inc. v. Cigna Health & Life Ins. Co., No. 3:19-CV-1324 (JCH), 2025 WL 744288, at *4 (D. Conn. Mar. 7, 2025) (noting “[i]t is well-recognized that in-house counsel may serve both legal and business functions, and courts will scrutinize the nature of their communications before finding that those communications are privileged,” and then ordering in camera review of various documents with remarkably similar privilege log entries as those at issue here). And as Plaintiffs explained way back in July: “Without knowing the identity of the legal advisor, how would the employee know then—and how would HHC know now—that the information sought, or the advice provided, was going to or was provided by a legal advisor for legal, as opposed to business, reasons?” (Ruan letter, July 31, 2025, at *10.)

Plaintiffs' concerns are yet again amplified by HHC's own “reasonable re-review,” which resulted in HHC concluding that 2,527 documents “in this category” were improperly being withheld.

The Parties' respective positions on this issue have been fully discussed. Plaintiffs otherwise refuse HHC's invitation to explain how they would respond to various theoretical categories of documents or to preview what other cases may or may not be relied upon in motion practice. Plaintiffs request that HHC re-review those attachments identified in Exhibit B.

7. Documents Merely Copying Attorneys

HHC claims that it fails to see where the dispute lies with respect to documents merely copying attorneys. Plaintiffs could not agree more. The Parties are, and have been for some time, in complete agreement that merely copying an attorney on a communication does not make it privileged nor does it make not privileged.

Plaintiffs' issue with respect to such documents is and always has been that all indications pointed to one inevitable conclusion—i.e., that despite the ipse dixit log descriptions that all these documents involved communications where the predominant purpose was legal advice (as opposed to business), in reality HHC failed to conduct a substantive assessment of each of these documents to confirm this was in fact true.

HHC, for its part, has denied this and claimed—and continues to claim even now—that it “did not blindly claim[] privilege in every case an attorney was ‘copied,’ but instead [it] reviewed each document and considered the document’s substance.” (Caseria letter, Oct. 20, 2025, at *13.) Yet in practically the same breath, HHC also admits: “HHC did undertake a further review based on which HHC has now downgraded 341 documents of which 239 are being produced fully unredacted.” (Id. at *14.)

Once again, HHC’s own “reasonable re-review” has confirmed that Plaintiffs’ suspicions were correct. This is also the source of the Parties’ potential impasse. Having now reviewed HHC’s latest iteration of its privilege log, Plaintiffs remain unconvinced that an adequate and reasonable substantive review of each of the documents on that log has been conducted.

Accordingly, Plaintiffs have identified those documents in Exhibit B which they reasonably suspect based on the information available are most likely to be highly relevant and not privileged, and they request that HHC re-review them.

8. Third-Party Senders or Recipients

HHC has concluded that, out of 111 documents identified by Plaintiffs as involving third parties McKinsey and VMG, 35 were improperly withheld whereas 76 are protected by attorney-client privilege because those third parties were “acting as an agent of HHC and its work was integral to counsel’s legal advice.” (Caseria letter, October 20, 2025, at *14.)

This is not the correct legal standard. As explained by In re Copper Antitrust Litigation, 200 F.R.D. 213 (S.D.N.Y. 2001) and interpreted by courts in the District of Connecticut, this exception to the general waiver rule only applies in rare situations where those consultant-advisors are the “functional equivalent” of a company’s employee. See In re Copper, 200 F.R.D. at 216; In re Sampredo, No. 3:18 MC 47 (JBA), 2019 WL 157092, at *4 (D. Conn. Jan. 102019). This functional equivalence only occurs where: (1) “the consultant has primary responsibility for a key corporate job”; (2) “there was a continuous and close working relationship between the consultant and the company’s principals on matters critical to the company’s position in litigation”; and (3) “the consultant is likely to possess information possessed by no one else at the company.” Id.

HHC has failed to make such a showing here for either McKinsey or VMG. In fact, even a cursory review of HHC’s production related to McKinsey and VMG supports the conclusion that these documents pertain not to litigation or even legal advice generally, but rather business-related contractual decisions.

Please confirm whether HHC is standing by these privilege assertions and, if so, explain how McKinsey and/or VMG meet the exacting standard described above.

9. Common Interest Privilege

Plaintiffs' prior letter stated that, at that time, there was no dispute amongst the Parties regarding the legal standards for asserting common interest privilege. (Ruan letter, Sept. 25, 2025, at *8-9.) Since that letter, an issue has arisen which Plaintiffs, as promised, promptly brought to HHC's attention during multiple recent depositions.

In particular, HHC now appears to be claiming common interest privilege with respect to all ICP members. Notably, after Plaintiffs previously requested HHC provide a description of the circumstances surrounding each of HHC's assertion of common interest privilege, HHC's list of entities with whom it shared a common interest did not include any of these separate legal entities. (See Caseria letter, June 9, 2025, at *4-6.)

Please confirm whether HHC is in fact asserting common interest privilege with respect to each ICP member and, if so, the basis of the shared legal interest, its scope, the time period in which they shared it, and the documents HHC is withholding on this basis.

As discussed above, please produce the documents identified in Exhibit A by January 30, 2026, or else provide some/dates times that same week on which HHC is available to have a final meet and confer regarding the same.

Please also let Plaintiffs know by January 26, 2026 if HHC will agree to provide the written explanation of its privilege-related processes discussed in §II above, to re-review the documents identified in Exhibit B and to produce a revised privilege log and any downgraded documents by February 9, 2026.

Very truly yours,

/s/Matthew W. Ruan

Re: *Estuary Transit District, et al. v. Hartford Healthcare Corporation, D. Conn.,
Case No. 3:24-cv-01051-SFR*

Dear Counsel:

Please find the attached documents in volumes HHC-BROWN-VOL-52 and HHC-BROWN-REPROD-20. Both volumes contain documents produced or reproduced by Defendants in response to Plaintiffs' Requests for the Production of Documents in the above-entitled action, subject to and without waiving Defendants' objections and responses to these requests.

In response to your January 20, 2026 letter, these are documents that Defendants have rereviewed and downgraded from Exhibit A. The Bates ranges and privilege log IDs for this volume are provided in Attachment 1. Volume 52 contains documents that were previously withheld on the basis of privilege. Volume HHC-BROWN-REPROD-20 contains re-produced documents replacing certain privilege slipsheets and redacted documents from prior production sets. The Bates ranges and privilege log IDs for the reproduction are in Attachment 2. These documents are designated "CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS' EYES ONLY" pursuant to the protective order in this case.

As to the two chat threads you specifically cite, we have re-reviewed those documents and have modified redactions, but still maintain that the remaining redactions are privileged as they specifically discuss legal advice from Kyle Lanning (whom the chat threads reference by name).

Further, as to the remaining documents that are still privileged, many of the documents have one or more multiple attorneys in the to/from/cc/bcc, and the privileged nature of the documents are apparent on their face. Where appropriate, we have modified privilege log descriptions for added clarity. Finally, several of the documents you reference in Exhibit A have already been produced (HHC-BROWN-06422636; HHC-BROWN-06601445; HHC-BROWN-00082788; HHC-BROWN-05686700; HHC-BROWN-00010802).

We will follow up with a separate letter and production as to the documents and arguments for Exhibit B and produce an updated privilege log.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Leo Caseria". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "Leo" and last name "Caseria" clearly distinguishable.

Re: *Estuary Transit District, et al. v. Hartford Healthcare Corporation, D. Conn.,

Dear Counsel:

This letter responds to Sections II and III of your letter dated January 20, 2026 regarding the privilege logs produced by Defendants Hartford Healthcare Corporation, Hartford Hospital, Hartford Healthcare Medical Group, Inc., and Integrated Care Partners, LLC (collectively, "HHC").¹ That letter responded to our letter from October 20, 2025 to which Plaintiffs took a full three months to respond, mostly rehashing their old arguments without offering much of anything new in support other than citing to cases out of context, incorrectly, or standing for unremarkable legal privilege standards. Below are our specific responses to the points raised in Plaintiffs' letter.

I. HHC's Privilege Review.

More than 1.3 million documents have been produced in this case, of which only a small fraction were redacted or withheld for privilege. HHC's privilege review began with running keyword searches across the document collection universe. The privilege keywords included, inter alia, variations in the names and email addresses of HHC attorneys and individuals who worked under their direction, such as paralegals. The attorneys included both in-house and outside counsel as well as the law firms that represented HHC during the relevant time. Thereafter, an outside attorney reviewed each document with a privilege-term “hit” at least once. Additional reviews were conducted in response to issues raised by plaintiffs. Today, all documents remaining on our privilege log have now been reviewed on at least three separate occasions by an attorney, and 4,214 of those documents have been reviewed by an attorney at least four times. Some documents have been reviewed more than four times by an attorney.

Based on these reviews, documents were redacted or withheld in full. As noted, where Plaintiffs raised specific concerns regarding particular documents, HHC undertook additional efforts in good faith to re-review the documents, and reproduced certain documents with redactions or in their entirety. Contrary to your representation, prior to January 30, 2026, HHC downgraded a total of 11,430 documents of which 10,382 documents were downgraded to Not Privileged, and 1,048 documents were downgraded to Privilege-Redact.— not 15,000 documents, as Plaintiffs claim. That downgrade number represents a meager 0.88% of HHC’s entire document production of over 1.3 million documents. In every litigation, there are certain privilege calls that are revisited, and that is what has been happening through the parties’ meet and confer process. HHC’s privilege efforts have been made in good faith and without prejudice to plaintiffs.

The remainder of the arguments in Section II.B of your letter seek confirmation of issues that we already addressed and/or confirmed multiple times in prior letters. For example, we already addressed your assertion that there must be “a stand-alone” basis for withholding each attachment to a privileged email at least 3 times, and refer you back to our prior letters. August 15, 2015 Caseria Letter, at 3-4; September 5, 2025 Caseria Letter at 3-4; October 20, 2025 Caseria Letter at 6-8. Suffice it to say that attachments were withheld if they were integral to a request for, or provision of legal advice. Such material include attachments reflecting (1) documents and factual information provided to counsel to assist counsel with providing legal advice regarding a noted issue, (2) documents or factual information collected for counsel to assist counsel with providing legal advice regarding a noted issue, or (3) documents reflecting legal advice of counsel, such as counsel’s legal comments on a draft contract or communication, and legal memoranda and analyses. See, e.g., Gen. Elec. Co. v. United States, 2015 WL 5443479, *1 (D. Conn. Sept. 15, 2015) (“information communicated to an attorney in connection with obtaining or rendering legal advice is properly subject to a claim of privilege, even if the information standing alone would not otherwise be subject to a claim of privilege”). We reconfirm this is the case for the documents remaining on the privilege log.

Similarly, we already stated in both our October 20, 2025 and August 15, 2025 letters that communications copying or blind copying an attorney have been withheld when they reflected an explicit or implicit request for legal advice, and that the determining factor in redacting or withholding such communications was the actual context of a communication, not whether an attorney was listed in the cc or bcc fields. See, e.g., Valente v. Lincoln Nat. Corp., No. 3:09cv693 (MRK), 2010 WL 3522495, at *4 (D. Conn. Sept. 2, 2010) (privilege applied to emails “providing factual information and also either implicitly or explicitly seeking legal advice from counsel”); A & R Body Specialty & Collision Works, Inc. v. Progressive Cas. Ins. Co., No. 3:07CV929WWE, 2013 WL 6044342, at *5 (D. Conn. Nov. 14, 2013) (“privilege attaches to emails providing in-house counsel with factual information and also implicitly or explicitly seeking legal advice”); Greater N.Y. Taxi Ass’n v. City of New York, 2017 U.S. Dist. LEXIS

146655, at *34-35 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 11, 2017) (“Courts have held that communications constitute implicit requests for legal advice where an attorney is copied on the communications and the communications implicate specific legal issues.”); see also October 20, 2025 Caseria Letter at 13-14; August 15, 2025 Caseria Letter at 6. We have conducted our review with this in mind and reconfirm that this is the case for the documents remaining on our privilege log.

You also ask HHC to reconfirm that “[e]very HHC employee included in a communication was someone whose job duties placed them in a position to act or rely upon the legal advice conveyed,” which we already have done twice. See October 20, 2025 Caseria Letter at 6 (citing September 5, 2025 Caseria Letter and noting, “HHC has already expressly confirmed that, based on the ‘org charts detailing the names and titles and reporting structures of [HHC] employees, ... th[e] recipients of legal advice were in a position to act or rely on the advice’ – that is, each recipient had a ‘need to know’ the legal advice based on his or her position and responsibilities within the organization”) (emphasis added). Thus, as we also noted in our October 20, 2025 letter, “Plaintiffs continue to press an issue that has already been completely resolved.” Id.

We have also addressed your arguments regarding communications that include third parties multiple times. In particular, our August 15, 2025 letter confirmed that, “to the extent communications with joint venturers are not privileged, they have been produced.” August 15, 2025 Caseria Letter at 7; see also June 9, 2025 Caseria Letter at 4. In our June 9th letter, which specifically addressed this issue, we gave examples of entities with which HHC had active joint ventures, stating, “The common interest rule also applies, for example, to privileged communications with listed entities with whom HHC had active joint ventures at the time of the privileged communications.” June 9, 2025 Caseria Letter at 4 (emphasis added).

In our June 9th letter, we also explained (1) that “[t]he vast majority of [third party email] domains derive from HHC board members who were on privileged communications with HHC counsel”; (2) identified those individuals and their email domains; and (3) cited PLHHC-BROWN-0018757 as an example where “these domains can be found in one particular thread group with David Mack, an in-house attorney at HHC.” June 9, 2025 Caseria Letter at 3. In both our June 9 letter as well as our October 20, 2025 letter, we also explained the reasons for withholding certain communications with other third parties, including, inter alia, Optum, Horthy Springer, McKinsey, Gallagher, and VMG. June 9, 2025 Caseria Letter at 4; October 20, 2025 Caseria Letter at 14. Moreover, we addressed your concerns specifically regarding 111 documents involving McKinsey and VMG in our October 20, 2025 letter, and noted that HHC is maintaining a privilege claim (partial or in full) over 76 of those documents because the “third party” was “acting as an agent of HHC and its work was integral to counsel’s legal advice.” Id. at 14 (citing cases).

Finally, we re-reviewed the documents you identified in Exhibit B to your January 20, 2026 letter. Initially, we note that HHC-BROWN-03939910, HHC-BROWN-05909345, and HHC-BROWN-05911210 were previously downgraded to not privileged and had already been produced.

The following documents from Exhibit B were also downgraded and produced on January 30, 2026 in connection with Section I/Exhibit A of your January 20, 2026 letter: PLHHC-BROWN-0014748, PLHHC-BROWN-0015601, PLHHC-BROWN-0015602, PLHHC-BROWN-0015603, PLHHC-BROWN-0017158, PLHHC-BROWN-0017300, PLHHC-BROWN-0017575, PLHHC-BROWN-0016985, and PLHHC-BROWN-0018005. Based on our further review of the Exhibit B documents, HHC is now downgrading an additional 33 documents on Exhibit B to not privileged.

Below is a breakdown of the remaining Exhibit B documents, grouped into categories, as to which HHC maintains a privilege claim. The revised privilege log that is simultaneously produced with this letter provides additional detail, such as updated privilege descriptions, as appropriate, to further clarify the privilege claims.

1. Documents reflecting requests to and legal advice of counsel regarding dispute over the contractual scope of an Anthem audit.

⁵ We note that Plaintiffs already have nonprivileged copies of all relevant payor agreements.

⁹ While top email does not copy attorneys and relays the requested legal advice, the emails directly below, which seek such advice, were both addressed to in-house attorneys Kyle Lanning and Debra Cardinali.

¹⁰ The only redaction is to a sentence specifically relaying a need for and request for legal advice of counsel from HHC’s then-Chief Legal Officer, Margaret Marchak – “Marge” – regarding a contractual issue.

provision. Earlier emails in the chain directly request legal advice from Mr. Lanning regarding that contractual provision.

¹³ We note that the email from in-house attorney David Mack also circulates a memorandum from Bevin Newman and Amar S. Naik from Sheppard Mullin, containing legal analysis of certain payor contract provisions.

¹⁴ The small redactions expressly relay a request for legal review by in-house attorney Kyle Lanning of particular contractual issues.

¹⁵ The entire email, copying in-house attorney Kyle Lanning references need for legal advice from “Kyle” regarding a particular contract language in the Aetna contract, and further relays the legal advice received from “Kyle” while also copying him on the top email.

¹⁶ The small redactions expressly relay a request/need for legal review of particular contractual provisions.

²³ Eryk Wenzia, who worked in the HHC Legal Department and under the direction of counsel, was collecting documents or information to assist counsel with preparing a contract.

²⁴ While the sender, Eryk Wenzia, is not a lawyer, he worked in a contract manager role in the HHC Legal Department, under the direction of in-house counsel. In fact, he copies in-house attorney Ted Govola, who is overseeing the contract that is at issue.

²⁸ The top email responds directly to in-house attorney Kyle Lanning's request for additional information to assist him with providing the requested legal advice regarding contract issues, even though he is one of three recipients on the top email.

³¹ The parent emails and the privilege log identify the attorney(s) whose legal advice was sought.

³² The top email in the parent email, which does not list any attorneys, forwards the root email directed to in-house attorneys Kyle Lanning and Debra Cardinali, asking them for legal advice and review of this draft contractual language proposal for a United contract.

³³ While the title of the document indicates “Final,” the parent email poses additional open issues and language changes on the attached contract terms for legal consideration.

³⁴ This redline by HHC Legal was sent in the root email by inhouse attorney Kyle Lanning, who also copied inhouse attorneys John D’Ambrosio and Debra Cardinali. Ms. Hasselman then forwarded this redline with legal comments to members of her contracting team, who, as already indicated, have a need to know this information and were in a position to act thereon.

³⁷ As the title of the document indicates, it includes “legal revisions.” The draft reflects margin comments and redline edits by both HHC Legal and outside counsel Christine Clements of Sheppard Mullin. The revisions and comments were sent to Michelle Cornelio by in-house attorney Kyle Lanning (copying in-house attorney David Mack) in response to a request for legal advice regarding the same directed to Mr. Lanning in the root email of the Parent email. Ms. Cornelio then forwarded her correspondence with Mr. Lanning, including this redline, to Ms. Hasselman.

II. Plaintiffs' Additional Arguments Purporting to Respond to HHC's October 20th Letter

1. Documents Withheld Entirely

Plaintiffs concede that the mere percentage of documents withheld is not, in and of itself, an appropriate challenge to a privilege log, but argue “complete withholding is inappropriate unless the entire document comprises privilege communication or the protected legal advice is ‘so inextricably intertwined with the rest of the text that [it] cannot be separated.’” January 20, 2026 Letter at 5 (modification in original) (citing, Resol. Tr. Corp. v. Diamond, 773 F. Supp. 597, 601 (S.D.N.Y. 1991); Hopkins v. U.S. Dept. of Hous. & Urban Dev., 929 F.2d 81, 85 (2d Cir. 1991); Breon v. Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of New England, 232 F.R.D. 49, 55 (D. Conn. 2005)).⁴⁴ That is consistent with the process HHC utilized, including the production of thousands of partially redacted documents, where redactions were appropriate.

⁴⁴ Plaintiffs cite these cases for nothing more than general privilege principles that are not in dispute.

In any event, you asked that HHC re-review the documents in Exhibit B. As reflected in Section I, supra, we did just that and have provided additional details regarding the documents Plaintiffs identified. Where entire documents are withheld, as opposed to redacted, the document in its entirety reflects privileged communications as indicated on the log. Where redaction was appropriate, HHC in fact produced partially redacted documents. Some examples of such partially redacted documents from Exhibit B include, inter alia, HHC-BROWN-06467414, HHC-BROWN-06467416, PLHHC-BROWN-0017978, PLHHC-BROWN-0017979, PLHHC-BROWN-0014935, PLHHC-BROWN-0016116, and HHC-BROWN-06011349.

2. Need to Know

Plaintiffs now claim that they “have never taken took [sic] the position that HHC had to include this information on its privilege log,” but that, instead, Plaintiffs “[have now repeatedly] asked HHC to confirm that its privilege analysis vis-à-vis corporate employees accounted for the ‘need to know’ waiver issue raised by Plaintiffs...” January 20, 2026 Letter at 6. While Plaintiffs’ cited authority simply restates the legal requirements for privilege, and breaks no new ground, Plaintiffs finally concede that “communications among corporate employees, although not directly to or from corporate counsel, can be privileged if those communications are made among employees who need to know their content...” Id. (bolded emphasis and ellipses in original; italic emphasis added) (quoting Weber v. FujiFilm Med. Sys. U.S.A., Inc., No.3:10-CV-401-JBA, 2011 WL 677282, at *2 (D. Conn. Jan. 24, 2011)).⁴⁵

Contrary to Plaintiffs’ grandstanding that “HHC continues to refuse confirming as much,” HHC now has confirmed this information at least twice before. For at least the third time now, we reconfirm that all employees listed on the privilege log to whom privileged information was disseminated had a need to know the privileged information and were in a position to act thereon – in other words, they were “necessary employees” who needed to know such information in the performance of their job duties. This could not have been more clear based on the following notation in the revised privilege log that was produced on October 20, 2025: “*Each recipient or requestor of legal advice listed on this log had a ‘need to know’ the particular legal advice and was in a position to act thereon.”

3. Attachments

Contrary to your assertion, there is nothing irreconcilable or controversial about revisiting certain privilege issues and downgrading certain documents, including attachments, based on additional reviews. As we already noted, every litigation involves revisiting certain privilege calls, and this case is no exception, particularly given the “complex commercial transactions at issue in this case and with their substantial legal regulatory overtones.” Gen. Elec., 2015 WL 5443479, at *2. That HHC subsequently downgraded certain documents only shows that it acted in good faith and was responsive to addressing Plaintiffs’ concerns, however vague and general they may have been.

⁴⁵ The full sentence from Weber actually goes further, providing “communications among corporate employees, although not directly to or from corporate counsel, can be privileged if those communications are made among employees who need to know their content, i.e. who share the common interest, and are made for the purpose of seeking or receiving legal advice.” 2011 WL 677282, at *2 (emphasis added).

You argue that an attachment “will not become privileged simply because an attorney recommended its preparation if it contains merely business-related or technical communications between corporate employees.” January 20, 2026 Letter at 7 (citing In re Rivastigmine Pat. Litig., 237 F.R.D. 69, 83 (S.D.N.Y. 2006)⁴⁶; Vidal v. Metro-North Commuter Ry. Co., No. 3:12-cv-0248-MPS, 2014 WL 413952, at *5 (D. Conn. Feb. 4, 2014)).

The attachments at issue are privileged. See Section I, supra. They involve circumstances where a document was (i) compiled for and/or provided to counsel in connection with a request for legal advice of counsel regarding a noted issue, and to assist counsel with providing that advice; or (ii) relaying legal advice of counsel regarding a noted issue. You appear to agree that such documents satisfy the privilege test. January 20, 2026 Letter at 7 (“securing, conveying, or relaying legal advice must be [the document’s] predominant purpose”). Indeed, Plaintiffs’ own cited case, People’s United Bank v. PeoplesBank, No. 3:08CV01858 (PCD), 2009 WL 10689492, at *2 (D. Conn. Dec. 28, 2009), acknowledges that “numerous courts have held that corporate communications among non lawyers to provide information to counsel or otherwise aid counsel in providing legal advice are eligible for the privilege....”

Moreover, In re Rivastigmine Pat. Litig., which you cite out of context for support, recognized that the very document that was at issue in the portion of the decision that you cite was privileged where, inter alia, it “was prepared to aid in formulating legal advice and providing legal services.” 237 F.R.D. at 80. More specifically, the document at issue, Document 652, “was written as a collaborative effort among various members of the Novartis Patent and Trademark Department, including attorneys, patent agents, and perhaps others, and was apparently circulated among the members of that department.” Id. at *79 (emphasis added). Plaintiffs (including Novartis) asserted privilege over the document, arguing that a non-lawyer patent agent, Mr. Borovian, “under the supervision of U.S. attorney Thomas Hoxie, drafted portions of [the document], and that the other portions were prepared by the client, at Mr. Borovian’s or Mr. Hoxie’s request, so that they could provide legal advice.” Id. The court explained that “[c]ommunications among non-attorneys in a corporation may be privileged if made at the direction of counsel, to gather information to aid counsel in providing legal services.” Id. (emphasis added). The court concluded that “[t]he document is therefore privileged regardless of Mr. Borovian’s professional title.” Id. at 80.

Plaintiffs’ selective citation to the court’s general statement of privilege in that case, without reference or discussion of the relevant facts, does nothing to advance your argument. As our descriptions of Exhibit B documents both on the revised privilege log produced herewith, and in Section I, supra, demonstrate, the attachments at issue amply meet the privilege test in *Rivastigmine Pat. Litig.*⁴⁷

Next, you double down on your argument that HHC must “establish that the attachments themselves are privileged.” Id. We already have addressed your unsupported position in

⁴⁷ We note that Vidal simply cited In re Rivastigmine Pat. Litig. in the section of the opinion laying out general privilege principles, and Plaintiffs also cite Vidal for nothing more than general privilege principles.

multiple letters, including this one, that there must be a “stand-alone” basis for withholding each attachment to a privileged email, where those attachments either relayed legal advice of counsel, or were provided to counsel in connection with a request for legal advice. We will not repeat those arguments once more.

In any event, and as you requested, we re-reviewed the documents you identified in Exhibit B and provided additional information, where appropriate, to further clarify the privilege claims.

4. Subject Matter

Thank you for confirming that the only documents at issue are the ones identified in Exhibit B. As noted, we have re-reviewed those documents, and, in many cases, we have provided additional information to further clarify the privilege claims as to those documents in Exhibit B for which HHC is maintaining a privilege claim (full or partial).

5. Draft Documents

Thank you for confirming that the parties have resolved the issues regarding draft documents.

6. Privileged Documents that that Do Not Identify a Specific Attorney but (i) Relay a Request for Legal Advice from, or Collect Information to Assist “Legal,” “Counsel,” “Outside Counsel,” or a Law Firm with Providing the Requested Legal Advice; or (ii) Relay Actual Legal Advice from “Legal,” “Counsel,” “Outside Counsel,” or a Law Firm.

Plaintiffs concede that A.I.A. Holdings, S.A. v. Lehman Bros., 2002 WL 31385824 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 18, 2002), A & R Body Specialty & Collision Works, Inc. v. Progressive Cas. Ins. Co., No. 3:07CV929WWE, 2013 WL 6044342, at *4 (D. Conn. Nov. 14, 2013), and Wultz v. Bank of China Ltd., 979 F. Supp. 2d 479, 497 (S.D.N.Y. 2013)), which Plaintiffs previously cited, are distinguishable from this case. Plaintiffs offer no counterarguments regarding HHC’s position in earlier letters that these cases are distinguishable. Instead, Plaintiffs assert that HHC has ignored Rivastigmine Pat. Litig., 237 F.R.D. at 83, decided by Magistrate Judge Francis, but that case is also distinguishable on this issue.

In Rivastigmine Pat. Litig., “plaintiffs claim[ed] attorney-client privilege for a number of documents for which the plaintiffs [had] listed a department as the legal professional whose involvement [gave] rise to the privilege.” Id. (emphasis added). The “plaintiffs” in that case included three Swiss corporations, one Bermuda corporation, and a single American company,⁴⁸ and the court already had concluded in connection with a separate “Swiss Motion” to compel that “Swiss confidentiality protections do not apply to communications with in-house counsel.” Id. at 76.

While the portion of the opinion Plaintiffs rely upon makes no distinction among the various “plaintiffs” making the privilege claim, i.e., whether the “department” at issue was a unit of one of the Swiss plaintiffs, the Bermuda plaintiff, or the American plaintiff, it does note that

“[t]he qualifications of the relevant legal professionals ha[d] specifically been challenged by the defendants in their motions to compel....” Id. at 84 (emphasis added). Importantly, in describing the “Swiss Motion” earlier in the opinion, the court noted that it had previously “ordered the plaintiffs to provide the defendants with additional information regarding the legal qualifications of the relevant legal professionals....” Id. at 72 (emphasis). Given the apparent ambiguity regarding whose “department” was in fact at issue, the court concluded that “plaintiffs” were required to identify the specific in-house attorneys because there was at least a possibility that the legal professionals involved as to the documents at issue were Swiss in-house counsel whose communications were not subject to confidentiality protection under Swiss law, or not attorneys at all.

Here, by contrast, and as HHC has already represented, the withheld documents expressly relay, inter alia, (i) a request, or need, for “legal” review, advice, and/or approval; (ii) the need to collect documents for “legal” or “outside counsel” for a stated purpose; or (iii) actual legal advice from “legal,” “legal department” or a particular law firm. HHC lawyers were involved in those communications. To the extent HHC non-attorneys were involved in those communications and efforts, such communications are still privileged, as demonstrated by Plaintiffs’ own cited case. Weber, 2011 WL 677282, at *2 (communications among corporate employees, although not directly to or from corporate counsel, can be privileged if those communications are made among employees who need to know their content, ... and are made for the purpose of seeking or receiving legal advice”).

Moreover, unlike the unique circumstances that were present in Rivastigmine Pat. Litig, Plaintiffs here have no basis to challenge the “qualifications” of HHC’s legal representatives – whether it be members of HHC’s Legal Department or any law firm, including their staff. There are no foreign privilege or other legal issues in this case. As HHC already confirmed, all members of HHC’s Legal Department and the law firms that represented HHC during the relevant time, comprise licensed U.S. attorneys and their administrative staff, such as paralegals, who worked under the direction of the licensed U.S. attorneys. See October 20, 2025 Caseria Letter at 11.

Plaintiffs also claim that they need to know the identity of the specific attorneys involved because “assertions of privilege involving in-house legal departments must be carefully scrutinized insofar as the lines between legal and business advice are oftentimes blurred.” January 20, 2026 Letter at 8. For this argument, they cite Epic Reference Labs, Inc. v. Cigna Health & Life Ins. Co., No. 3:19-CV-1324 (JCH), 2025 WL 744288, at *4 (D. Conn. Mar. 7, 2025).

This argument is specious. Every attorney in the HHC Legal Department is an “in-house” attorney, and the specific identity of a particular in-house attorney (as opposed to “Legal Department” or “Legal” as expressly referenced in the documents) says nothing about whether the advice that was sought, received, or relayed involved business or legal issues. That information is provided by other means, including the subject matter of the privilege claim. To the extent that Plaintiffs challenged subject matter descriptions in Exhibit B, HHC has re-reviewed those documents, and has addressed those issues.

Lastly, in Epic, Judge Hall did not hold that documents lose privilege status where they identify, inter alia, “legal” or “legal department” as the legal professional, instead of a particular attorney. Instead, the case dealt with instances where documents were apparently withheld “because lawyers appeared on an email chain,” or “Cigna reflexively redacted or withheld any communication involving a lawyer....” 2025 WL 744288 at *3-4. The court thus had no occasion to address whether communications lose their privilege status because a specific attorney was not identified.

Regardless, in response to Plaintiffs’ request, we have re-reviewed the Exhibit B documents and provided additional information to further clarify certain privilege claims, where appropriate.

7. Documents Copying or Blind Copying Attorneys

In response to your request, we have re-reviewed all of the documents listed on Exhibit B. As reflected in Section I of this letter and the revised privilege log that is being produced simultaneously herewith, we have provided additional information to further clarify the privilege claims, where appropriate.

8. Third Party Senders or Recipients

You take issue with HHC’s claim of privilege over certain communications with third parties where the “‘third party’ was acting as an agent of HHC and its work was integral to counsel’s legal advice,” see October 20, 2025 Caseria Letter at 14, claiming instead that the standard is whether the “consultant-advisors are the ‘functional equivalent’ of a [HHC’s] employee,” January 20, 2026 Letter at 9. You further limit that purported “standard” to those circumstances where the communications concern “matters critical to the company’s position in litigation.” Id. Plaintiffs misstate the law.

First, the narrow standard you articulate ignores binding precedent directly from the Second Circuit. See, e.g., U.S. v. Kovel, 296 F.2d 918, 924 n.4 (2d Cir. 1961) (“communications by the client’s agent to the attorney are privileged”) (citing 8 Wigmore, Evidence, § 2317-1); United States v. Schwimmer, 892 F.2d 237, 243 (2d Cir.1989), cert. denied, 502 U.S. 810, 112 S.Ct. 55, 116 L.Ed.2d 31 (1991) (“The privilege also is held to cover communications made to certain agents of an attorney” who are “hired to assist in the rendition of legal services[.]” including “for the purposes of interpretation and analysis ... to the extent that it is imparted in connection with the legal representation”).

Thus, district courts within the Second Circuit, including the District of Connecticut case you cite, have held that communications between/among clients, attorneys, and agents of either or both are privileged if made in confidence and for the purpose of seeking or rendering legal advice from the lawyer to the client. See, e.g., In re Sampedro, No. 3:18 MC 47 (JBA), 2019 WL 157092, at *3 (D. Conn. Jan. 10, 2019) (“the non-lawyer consultant’s advice” is privileged if it is “at least highly useful for the effective consultation between the client and the lawyer which the privilege is designed to permit”; and is “made in confidence for the purpose of obtaining legal advice from the lawyer”) (italics omitted); CSC Recovery Corp. v. Daido Steel Co., Ltd., Case No. 94 Civ. 9214, 1997 WL 661122 at *3 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 22, 1997) (noting, attorney-client privilege applies to “communications among clients, their attorneys, and the agents of both, for the purpose of seeking and rendering legal advice, so long as the communications were ... kept confidential” and holding that certain portions of Exhibit A that reflected legal advice to Daido regarding “the meaning and effect of several contract provisions that were negotiated with CSC” were privileged even though they were transmitted by an executive of MC Financial to an executive of Daido, where MC Financial “was acting as an agent of Daido’s in the transaction at issue”) (emphasis added); H.W. Carter & Sons, Inc. v. William Carter Co., Case No. 95 Civ. 1274, 1995 WL 301351 at *3 (S.D.N.Y. May 16, 1995) (holding that communications involving public relations consultants who assisted attorneys in rendering legal advice were protected by the attorney-client privilege and noting Kovel’s holding that “attorney-client privilege protects communications made in presence of third parties who are there to assist lawyers in rendering legal advice”).

Indeed, In re Copper Antitrust Litigation, 200 F.R.D.213 (S.D.N.Y. 2001), on which both HHC and Plaintiffs rely,⁴⁹ and which you cite as the source of the “functional equivalent” standard acknowledges that “[c]onsistent with Supreme Court Standard 503, courts have held that the attorney-client privilege protects communications between lawyers and agents of a client where such communications are for the purpose of rendering legal advice.” Id. at 217 (emphasis added). The court went on to describe Kovel as holding that the attorney-client “privilege applies to communications of a third-party made at the request of an attorney or the client where the purpose of the communication was to put in usable form information obtained from the client.” Id. at 219-20 (emphasis added). Thus, the attorney-client privilege “exists to protect not only the giving of professional advice to those who can act on it but also the giving of information to the lawyer to enable him to give sound and informed advice.” Id. at 218. The court’s statement that the third-party at issue in that case – RLM, a public relations firm hired by Sumitomo – was a “functional equivalent” of the Sumitomo’s employee does not negate or diminish the core holding of the case – that the communications involving RLM were privileged because they “were made for the purpose of facilitating the rendition of legal services to Sumitomo,” id. at 219; and in light of the fact that RLM “acted as Sumitomo’s agent,” id. at 215.

That is what HHC has claimed here. The small number of documents involving VMG and McKinsey as to which HHC has claimed privilege (either full or partial) are privileged because those communications were made in confidence to facilitate the rendition of legal services to HHC – in other words, they were integral, and “at least highly useful,” to counsel’s ability to provide legal advice. See Sampedro, 2019 WL 157092, at *3. As HHC explained in its August 15, 2025 letter, “VMG and McKinsey are third party consultants who, in certain limited cases, provided necessary information in order for attorneys to render legal advice.” August 15, 2025 Caseria Letter at 7 (emphasis added). HHC stands on those statements. The fact that in some circumstances these third parties did not provide such assistance to counsel in no way negates the fact that in other “limited” circumstances, they in fact did.

You cite Sampedro, 2019 WL 157092, at *4, as a District of Connecticut case that you erroneously claim supposedly interpreted In re Copper, but nonetheless purportedly articulated a far narrower exception – that the third-party “exception to the general waiver rule only applies in rare situations where those consultant-advisors are the ‘functional equivalent’ of a company’s employee.” January 20, 2026 Letter at 9. Once again, Plaintiffs misstate the case and the law, and ignore the facts of the case.

In Sampedro, the court analyzed different categories of communications that included a third-party, G3M, from different time periods: (1) G3M documents from on or before January 12, 2018; and (2) G3M documents from after January 12, 2018. See id. at *3-4. Each of the two categories was subject to a different privilege argument, and the court applied different standards in resolving each. “For communications that occurred prior to January 12, 2018, Respondents maintain[ed] that G3M’s inclusion on the communications did not waive the attorney-client privilege because G3M’s expertise as to Codere was necessary for Linklaters to provide effective legal advice.” Id. at *3 (emphasis added). In other words, during that time period, G3M was acting as an agent of Codere and/or its attorneys. “For communications that occurred after January 12, 2018, however, “[r]espondents argue[d] that, by this time, G3M became fully integrated into [Codere’s] executive office.... This gave G3M functional equivalent status sufficient to prevent any waiver of privilege.” Id. (internal quote marks and citation omitted).

Plaintiffs’ conveniently cherry pick only from the court’s analysis of documents falling into the second category, but completely omit any mention of the court’s analysis related to the first category of documents, which involved G3M acting as an agent of Codere and/or its attorneys. In analyzing this first category of documents, which did not rely on “functional equivalency,” the court explained that those documents reflected “that the directors who retained Linklaters sought Linklaters’s legal advice regarding the removal of Petitioner and his brother, and that G3M’s input informed the legal advice that Linklaters provided.” Id. at 3. In particular, “G3M provided Linklaters with information about the company’s structure, which enabled Linklaters to tailor its legal advice to the directors.” Id.

In ruling that communications with Linklaters that included G3M were privileged, the court noted the Second Circuit’s holding that “the privilege for communication with attorneys can extend to shield communications to others when the purpose of the communication is to assist the attorney in rendering advice to the client.” Id. at *3 (internal quote marks and citation omitted). The court further explained, “[t]ypically, the non-lawyer consultant’s advice must be necessary, or at least highly useful for the effective consultation between the client and the lawyer which the privilege is designed to permit”; and that “[w]hat is vital to the privilege is that the communication be made in confidence for the purpose of obtaining legal advice from the lawyer.” Id. (emphases in original) (internal quote marks and citation omitted). The court then concluded that “G3M’s consulting and advice was ‘at least highly useful’ for Linklaters to provide effective legal advice to its director-clients,” and thus those communications were privileged. Id. Nothing in the court’s analysis of the first category of documents so much as mentions “functional equivalency,” or that the communications including such third-parties concern “matters critical to the company’s position in litigation,” as you incorrectly suggest.

The few VMG and McKinsey documents as to which HHC has claimed privilege (full or partial) meet the Second Circuit standard articulated in Sampedro as to agents whose inclusion in privileged communications is “to assist the attorney in rendering advice to the client.” 2019 WL 157092, at *3.

9. Common Interest with ICP Members

Our June 9th letter provided some non-exhaustive examples of the entities with which HHC had active joint ventures. June 9, 2025 Caseria Letter at 4. To the extent that Plaintiffs have challenged specific documents on the grounds that the inclusion of a specific third party results in waiver, HHC has provided an explanation for why there is no waiver, including reliance on the common interest doctrine, which is not a privilege but rather a doctrine of non-waiver. To the extent there are specific issues to address relating to specific documents, HHC will address them.
