INTRODUCTION

Each year, thousands of aspiring doctors submit applications to the University of California’s David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA (“the School of Medicine” or “the School”). Due to the School’s highly competitive admissions standards and limited class size, it must turn away the vast majority of applicants. But before such decisions are made, the School analyzes each application holistically and objectively. The School of Medicine has consistently done so using race-neutral means, including the analysis of academic performance and extracurricular achievement, since Proposition 209 took effect in California—over 25 years ago.¹

Plaintiffs allege that the School of Medicine has nevertheless been engaging in race-based discrimination in the admissions process and that Defendants—the Regents of the University of California (“the University”); UCLA Chancellor Julio Frenk; and Jennifer Lucero, the School’s Associate Dean of Admissions²—should be held liable under Section 1983, Title VI, Section 1981, and the Unruh Civil Rights Act. Because these claims suffer from a combination of jurisdictional and pleading defects, they must be dismissed.

First, Plaintiffs lack standing. Organizational plaintiffs Students For Fair Admissions (“SFFA”) and Do No Harm (“DNH”) have not plausibly alleged that they are genuine membership organizations entitled to associational standing. Further, SFFA and DNH may not seek damages on behalf of their members, and they lack associational standing to seek any other form of relief, because the Complaint fails to identify any specific members with standing to sue in their own right. The conclusory and speculative assertions that the individual members they

² All other defendants named in the Complaint have been voluntarily dismissed. See Dkt. 27.

1 each identify are able and ready to apply to the School of Medicine, despite an 2 evident lack of requisite credentials, are inadequate to confer standing. Finally, the 3 School of Medicine’s race-neutral transfer application bar prevents Plaintiff Kelly 4 Mahoney, the putative class representative, from being ready and able to apply. As 5 no Plaintiff has standing, the Court lacks jurisdiction and must dismiss the case.

6 Second, even if the Court concludes that at least one Plaintiff has standing, 7 the claims suffer from significant deficiencies warranting dismissal under Fed. R.
8 Civ. P. 12(b)(6).

9 With respect to the University, the Section 1983, Section 1981, and Unruh 10 Act claims all must be dismissed. The Eleventh Amendment immunizes the 11 University from damages under those claims, and, as an arm of the State, the 12 University cannot be sued for prospective injunctive relief under Ex parte Young.
13 The University also is not a “person” under Sections 1983 or 1981 or a “business 14 establishment” under the Unruh Act.

15 All claims against UCLA’s Chancellor, Defendant Julio Frenk, must be 16 dismissed because the Complaint fails to plausibly allege he was personally 17 involved in the School of Medicine’s admissions process at all, let alone personally 18 involved in the enforcement of allegedly discriminatory admissions policies at the 19 School.

20 Even if such allegations could be plausibly made, the claims against both 21 Chancellor Frenk and the School of Medicine’s Associate Dean, Defendant 22 Jennifer Lucero (collectively, the “Individual Defendants”) are subject to dismissal 23 on various other grounds. The Eleventh Amendment immunizes both from the 24 Unruh Act claim as well as from the Section 1983 and Section 1981 claims to the 25 extent such claims seek retrospective relief and are brought against the Individual 26 Defendants in their official capacities. To the extent those claims are brought 27 against the Individual Defendants in their individual capacities, qualified 28

1 immunity, state-law immunity, and the inapplicability of the Unruh Act require 2 dismissal. And the Title VI claim may not be brought against the Individual 3 Defendants, neither of whom are recipients of federal funding.

4 Finally, to the extent any claims are not dismissed, the Court should dismiss 5 Plaintiffs’ requested remedies of punitive damages, disgorgement, and an 6 injunction lifting the School’s limits on reapplications and transfer applications, 7 and the Court should strike Plaintiffs’ facially deficient class allegations.

8 BACKGROUND³

9 As Plaintiffs themselves concede, UCLA’s School of Medicine is “highly 10 selective,” receiving over ten thousand applications each year for roughly 175 11 seats. Compl. ¶ 30. According to the Complaint, the School’s “matriculants have 12 an average GPA of 3.8 and average MCAT score of 514.” Compl. ¶ 31. The 13 School does not accept transfer students and does not allow prospective students to 14 apply for admission more than three times. Compl. ¶ 32. The School’s 15 Admissions Committee reviews the thousands of applications it receives every 16 year holistically, see Compl. ¶ 47, considering numerous factors but not granting 17 preferential treatment to any applicant based on race. Indeed, applicants’ self-18 identified race and ethnicity are not visible to the individuals who review 19 applications to the School. Cf. Compl. ¶ 67.

20 Plaintiffs are two self-described membership organizations as well as one 21 individual who allegedly applied to the School and was rejected. Compl. ¶¶ 12-16.
22 They allege that the School’s admissions officers “openly discuss race” and “use 23 race as a factor to make admissions decisions.” Compl. ¶ 8. In support of that 24 contention, Plaintiffs primarily allege that Associate Dean Lucero “is an outspoken 25 advocate for using race as a factor in admissions” and allegedly believes it is 26

27 ³ As required by Rule 12(b)(6), Defendants assume the truth of Plaintiffs’ 28 allegations for the purpose of this motion to dismiss only. See, e.g., Rico v.
Ducart, 980 F.3d 1292, 1295 n.5 (9th Cir. 2020).

1 “important to racially diversify medical-school admissions.” Compl. ¶ 57-58.
2 They also provide a list of alleged demographic statistics of the School’s applicants 3 and enrollees. See Compl. ¶¶ 70-82.

4 Plaintiffs allege violations of the Equal Protection Clause, pursuant to 5 Section 1983 (Count I); Title VI (Count II); Section 1981 (Count III); and the 6 Unruh Act (Count IV); and seek declaratory, injunctive, and monetary relief, see 7 Compl. at 37, purportedly on a class-wide basis, see Compl. ¶¶ 111-123.

8 LEGAL STANDARD

9 Standing is jurisdictional and therefore properly raised under Rule 12(b)(1) 10 as a motion to dismiss for lack of subject-matter jurisdiction. See Am. Diabetes
11 Ass’n v. U.S. Dep’t of the Army, 938 F.3d 1147, 1151 (9th Cir. 2019). The plaintiff 12 has the burden of “clearly” alleging “facts demonstrating” each element to 13 establish standing. Spokeo, Inc. v. Robins, 578 U.S. 330, 338 (2016) (quotation 14 marks omitted).

15 To survive a motion to dismiss under Rule 12(b)(6), a plaintiff must allege 16 facts with sufficient support to render them plausible, not just possible. Eclectic 17 Properties E., LLC v. Marcus & Millichap Co., 751 F.3d 990, 995 (9th Cir. 2014).
18 A court must assume the truth of well-pleaded factual allegations, but discount the 19 validity of allegations that are mere legal conclusions. Id. at 996. “[P]laintiffs 20 cannot offer allegations that are ‘merely consistent with’ their favored explanation 21 but are also consistent with the alternative explanation.” In re Century Aluminum 22 Co. Sec. Litig., 729 F.3d 1104, 1108 (9th Cir. 2013). Instead, factual allegations 23 make legal claims plausible only when they “tend[] to exclude the possibility that 24 the [defendant’s theory of non-liability] is true.” Id.

ARGUMENT

I. THE COMPLAINT SHOULD BE DISMISSED BECAUSE PLAINTIFFS LACK STANDING

For an associational plaintiff like SFFA or DNH to have standing to sue on behalf of its members, (1) its members must have standing to sue in their own right, (2) the interests the association seeks to protect must be germane to its purpose, and (3) neither the claims asserted nor the relief requested can require individual members to participate in the suit. See Hunt v. Wash. State Apple Advert. Comm'n, 432 U.S. 333, 343 (1977). Additionally, its constituents must be actual members of the organization or must possess “indicia of membership” that make them the functional equivalent of members. Id. at 344-345.

Plaintiffs alleging that a discriminatory barrier prevents them from pursuing an opportunity must allege “concrete fact[s]” sufficient to show that they are “‘able and ready’ to pursue the opportunity at issue.” Loffman v. Cal. Dep’t of Educ., 119 F.4th 1147, 1159, 1160-1161 (9th Cir. 2024). The rejection of an applicant is insufficient to confer standing on its own, as a rejected applicant “still need[s] to allege an intent to apply again in order to seek prospective relief.” Gratz v. Bollinger, 539 U.S. 244, 261 (2003).

Here, SFFA and DNH lack standing because they fail to plausibly allege that their purported members are actual members or have indicia of membership. And all Plaintiffs—including Mahoney—lack standing because they fail to plead facts sufficient to show that they (or their members) are “able and ready” to apply to the School. The Complaint must therefore be dismissed in its entirety.

A. Neither SFFA Nor DNH Has Adequately Pleaded Standing

SFFA and DNH are associations that must meet the requirements of associational standing, and neither has alleged facts sufficient to do so. The associational standing requirements are particularly important in a case like this, where SFFA and DNH allege no injuries of their own yet seek relief that would benefit their members. See Food & Drug Admin. v. All. for Hippocratic Med., 602 U.S. 367, 398 (2024) (Thomas, J., concurring) (warning against the “expansion of Article III standing” through the invocation of associational standing). In fact, the relief that SFFA and DNH seek is not limited to their members: it would apply to applicants other than their members, and therefore risks being impermissibly broad. See Trump v. CASA, Inc., 2025 WL 1773631, at *6-7 (U.S. June 27, 2025) (courts’ equitable authority extends only to remedies “traditionally accorded by courts of equity” and not to relief that “extend[s] beyond the parties” (quoting Grupo Mexicano de Desarrollo, S. A. v. Alliance Bond Fund, Inc., 527 U.S. 308, 319 (1999))).

1. SFFA and DNH fail to plausibly allege that they are genuine membership organizations

SFFA and DNH fail to plausibly allege that they are bona fide membership organizations with actual, identifiable members. Plaintiffs’ allegations that DNH is a “nationwide membership organization” with members, Compl. ¶ 12, and that SFFA is a “voluntary membership organization” and “nonprofit membership group” with members, Compl. ¶ 14, are conclusory allegations lacking any further factual support. See Perez v. Nidek Co., 711 F.3d 1109, 1113 (9th Cir. 2013) (“conclusory and bare bones words and phrases” are insufficient to plead standing). Nor do Plaintiffs allege SFFA and DNH have any “indicia of membership,” as is required for groups that are not “traditional voluntary membership organization[s].” Students for Fair Admissions, Inc. v. President & Fellows of Harvard Coll., 600 U.S. 181, 200 (2023). The Complaint contains no allegations that the supposed members influence the organizations’ activities, finance the organizations, or serve a specialized segment of the community. See Hunt, 432 U.S. at 344-345; Or. Advoc. Ctr. v. Mink, 322 F.3d 1101, 1111-1112 (9th Cir. 2003); Am. Unites for Kids v. Rousseau, 985 F.3d 1075, 1096-1097 (9th Cir. 2021). SFFA and DNH have therefore failed to plausibly allege standing.

1 See, e.g., Meister v. City of Hawthorne, 2014 WL 3040175, at *8 (C.D. Cal. May 2 13, 2014) (no standing where complaint only included “perfunctory” and 3 “conclusory” statements regarding accountability to supposed constituents).⁴

4 2. Neither SFFA nor DNH has pleaded that any members have 5 standing to sue in their own right

6 Even if SFFA and DNH had plausibly alleged that they are genuine 7 membership organizations, they have not adequately pleaded standing to sue on 8 behalf of their members in this case. As an initial matter, associational plaintiffs 9 cannot seek damages on behalf of their members because damages claims “require 10 the participation of individual members.” Int’l Longshore & Warehouse Union v.
11 Nelson, 599 F. App’x 701, 702 (9th Cir. 2015); see also Warth v. Seldin, 422 U.S.
12 490, 515-516 (1975). At minimum, therefore, SFFA’s and DNH’s claims for 13 damages on behalf of their members, Compl. at 37, must be dismissed.

14 SFFA and DNH also lack associational standing to seek the other forms of 15 relief outlined in the Complaint. For an associational plaintiff to have standing to 16 seek such relief on behalf of its members, it must demonstrate that its members

17 ⁴ Defendants recognize that the Supreme Court has previously found SFFA 18 to be a genuine membership organization, Students for Fair Admissions, 600 U.S.
19 at 198-201, and includes this argument as to SFFA to preserve its challenge to 20 SFFA’s standing for future stages of this proceeding. Moreover, SFFA averred its 21 membership organization status in that case in connection with its initial pleading.
22 See Students for Fair Admissions, Inc. v. President & Fellows of Harvard Coll., 23 Case No. 14-cv-14176-ADB (D. Mass), Dkt. 1-1. Here, SFFA is also required to 24 establish its standing at the pleading stage, and has failed to do so: this case 25 involves different purported members, a different school, and a different time 26 period, and the Complaint fails to plausibly allege facts demonstrating that those 27 individuals are genuine members or have indicia of membership. And Plaintiffs 28 may not rely on the Supreme Court’s holding regarding SFFA’s organizational status to support standing in this case. M/V Am. Queen v. San Diego Marine Const. Corp., 708 F.2d 1483, 1491 (9th Cir. 1983) (“[A] court may not take judicial notice of proceedings or records in another cause so as to supply, without formal introduction of evidence, facts essential to support a contention in a cause then before it.”).

1 have standing to sue in their own right. See Hunt v. Wash. State Apple Advert.
2 Comm’n, 432 U.S. 333, 343 (1977); Am. Diabetes Ass’n, 938 F.3d at 1155 3 (applying Hunt). An association lacks standing to challenge an alleged 4 discriminatory barrier, even where the association has asserted that members are 5 “qualified, willing, and able” to apply, if it fails to allege any “indication that the 6 [m]embers are likely to apply, have taken any actual steps to apply, or have 7 anything more than a hypothetical interest in doing so.” Do No Harm v. Gianforte, 8 2025 WL 756742, at *7 (D. Mont. Jan. 10, 2025), report & recommendation 9 adopted, 2025 WL 399753 (D. Mont. Feb. 5, 2025). That failure is evident here.

10 SFFA alleges associational standing based on a single anonymous member, 11 Compl. ¶¶ 96-100, but the Complaint does not plausibly demonstrate that SFFA 12 Member 1 is “able and ready” to apply, Loffman, 119 F.4th at 1161-1162. The 13 Complaint alleges that the School of Medicine’s “matriculants have an average 14 GPA of 3.8 and average MCAT score of 514,” and that the School receives 11,000
15 to 14,000 applicants for just 175 spots. Compl. ¶¶ 30-31. But SFFA Member 1 16 has a GPA of 3.4 and has not even taken the MCAT. Compl. ¶ 98. The 17 Complaint’s speculative assertions that SFFA Member 1 will someday satisfy the 18 application prerequisites and apply to the School do not plausibly suggest that she 19 is able and ready to do so now.

20 DNH’s allegations fare no better. It asserts that it has a single member who 21 applied to the School once, in 2024, and was rejected. Compl. ¶¶ 91-95. The 22 alleged rejection of this member is not sufficient to confer standing, as a rejected 23 applicant “still need[s] to allege an intent to apply again in order to seek 24 prospective relief.” Gratz v. Bollinger, 539 U.S. 244, 261 (2003). And the 25 allegation that this member “is able and ready to reapply,” Compl. ¶ 95, is not 26 plausibly pleaded. As the Complaint acknowledges, the School does not accept 27 transfer applications, Compl. ¶ 32, yet the Complaint alleges that DNH Member A 28

1 will be “able and ready” to reapply if the School decides to accept transfer 2 students. See Compl. ¶ 95. As DNH Member A cannot reapply, Plaintiffs’ claim 3 that this member is “able and ready” to do so defies logic.

4 Even if Plaintiffs were seeking to enjoin the School’s decision not to accept 5 transfer students, see Compl. ¶ 112, they would have to plausibly allege they are 6 able and ready to apply but for allegedly discriminatory or otherwise unlawful 7 practices. See Carney v. Adams, 592 U.S. 53, 60-61 (2020). That the School’s 8 application policy related to transfers—which Plaintiffs do not contend violates 9 any of the statutes or constitutional provisions under which they seek relief—10 prevent them from applying is insufficient to confer standing. See Gratz, 539 U.S.
11 at 262 (standing requires that a party “demonstrate that it is able and ready to 12 [pursue an opportunity] and that a discriminatory policy prevents it from doing so 13 on an equal basis” (emphasis added) (quoting Northeastern Fla. Chapter, 14 Associated Gen. Contractors of America v. Jacksonville, 508 U.S. 656, 666 15 (1993))).

16 B. Mahoney Has Not Alleged Facts Sufficient To Show She Is “Able 17 And Ready” To Apply

18 Mahoney likewise lacks standing because the Complaint does not plausibly 19 allege that she is “able and ready” to apply to the School of Medicine. See 20 Loffman, 119 F.4th 1147 at 1159-1161. She asserts only that her ability to re-apply 21 is contingent on the Court “undo[ing] the effects of [Defendants’] prior 22 discrimination.” Compl. ¶ 110 (emphasis added). That qualifying language refers 23 to the School’s bar on transfer applications. See Compl. ¶ 112 (asking the Court to 24 “order relief that fully stops the school from considering race in admissions and 25 undoes the effect of the school’s prior discrimination, including by enjoining the 26 school’s limitations on transfers and multiple applications” (emphasis added)).
27 Yet the Complaint nowhere alleges that the School’s non-acceptance of transfers is 28 unlawful in any way. Mahoney has therefore failed to allege that Defendants’

1 allegedly discriminatory conduct caused her injury, or that prevailing in this case 2 would redress it. See Loffman, 119 F.4th 1147 at 1159 n.6 (standing requires that a 3 “discriminatory barrier” prevents plaintiff from pursuing opportunity). For the 4 same reasons DNH Member A lacks standing, so too does Mahoney.⁵

5 Because no Plaintiff has established standing, the Court lacks jurisdiction 6 and the Complaint must be dismissed in its entirety.

7 II. EVEN IF ANY PLAINTIFF HAD STANDING, THE CLAIMS AGAINST EACH 8 DEFENDANT ARE BARRED BY SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY AND ARE 9 DEFICIENT ON THE MERITS

10 “The Eleventh Amendment protects states and state instrumentalities, such as 11 The Regents, from suit in federal court.” Doe v. Regents of the Univ. of Cal., 891 12 F.3d 1147, 1153 (9th Cir. 2018). State officials (such as the Individual Defendants) 13 sued in their official capacities are likewise immune. Students for a Conservative 14 Am. v. Greenwood, 378 F.3d 1129, 1130 (9th Cir. 2004) (“It is undisputed that 15 because the defendants were all sued in their official capacities as officers of the 16 University of California, they are entitled to Eleventh Amendment immunity.”). The 17 Eleventh Amendment bars any damages claims against an arm of the State except 18 where that immunity has been waived by the State or abrogated by Congress. See 19 BV Eng’g v. Univ. of Cal., L.A., 858 F.2d 1394, 1395-1396 (9th Cir. 1988); Jackson 20 v. Hayakawa, 682 F.2d 1344, 1349 (9th Cir. 1982). Congress has not abrogated, and 21 California has not waived, the State’s immunity from suit under Section 1983, 22

23 ⁵ Plaintiffs also seek to certify a class and “injunctive subclass” with 24 Mahoney as sole representative. Compl. ¶¶ 111-112. Mahoney’s lack of standing 25 is fatal to Plaintiffs’ proposed class and subclass. See Wooden v. Bd. of Regents of 26 Univ. Sys. of Georgia, 247 F.3d 1262, 1287-1288 (11th Cir. 2001) (“[A]s a 27 prerequisite to certification, it must be established that the proposed class 28 representatives have standing to pursue the claims as to which classwide relief is sought.”). This is to say nothing of the numerous other problems with Plaintiffs’ class allegations. See infra pp. 32-33. Therefore, the class allegations must be dismissed.

1 Section 1981, or the Unruh Act. See Dittman v. California, 191 F.3d 1020, 1025-2 1026 (9th Cir. 1999) (Section 1983); Carmen v. S.F. Unified Sch. Dist., 982 F. Supp.
3 1396, 1403 (N.D. Cal. 1997) (Section 1981); Stanley v. Trs. of Cal. State Univ., 433
4 F.3d 1129, 1134 (9th Cir. 2006) (Unruh Act).⁶ Accordingly, the Eleventh 5 Amendment bars all such claims brought against the University as well as the claims 6 against the Individual Defendants in their official capacities.

7 Ex parte Young—a narrow exception to Eleventh Amendment immunity—8 permits plaintiffs to seek injunctive relief by bringing suit against state officers in 9 their official capacities, but only if those officers are sufficiently connected to the 10 enforcement of a challenged action and only where plaintiffs seek prospective 11 declaratory or injunctive relief based on violations of federal law. See Coal. to Def.
12 Affirmative Action v. Brown, 674 F.3d 1128, 1133-1134 (9th Cir. 2012). Ex parte 13 Young is therefore inapplicable to the extent Plaintiffs’ claims (1) are directed toward 14 an arm of the State rather than a state officer, (2) are directed toward a state officer 15 who lacks a sufficient enforcement connection to the challenged action, (3) seek 16 monetary or other retrospective relief, or (4) allege violations of state law. *See id.*⁷

17 A. The Section 1983, Section 1981, And Unruh Act Claims Against The 18 University Must Be Dismissed

19 The Eleventh Amendment prevents suit against the University in federal 20 court, and that immunity has not been abrogated or waived with respect to Section 21 1983, Section 1981, or the Unruh Act. Because the University is an arm of the 22 State, not a state officer, it also cannot be sued for prospective injunctive relief 23 under Ex parte Young. See, e.g., Ashmore v. Regents of the Univ. of Cal., 2011

24
25 ⁶ By contrast, Congress has abrogated immunity for Title VI claims. See 26 Cholla Ready Mix, Inc. v. Civish, 382 F.3d 969 (9th Cir. 2004).

27 ⁷ Thus, to the extent that Plaintiffs’ Unruh Act claim is brought against the 28 Individual Defendants in their official capacities, but see Compl. ¶ 162, that claim must be dismissed because Ex parte Young “does not apply when a suit seeks relief under state law.” See Doe, 891 F.3d at 1153.

1 WL 6258460, at *8 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 15, 2011) (because Ex parte Young relies on 2 the “fiction that [the] suit is not an action against a ‘State,’” a “suit explicitly 3 naming a state or state agency as a defendant” is “barred by the Eleventh 4 Amendment, even if the only relief sought is prospective declaratory or injunctive 5 relief” (quoting Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians v. Hardin, 223 F.3d 1041, 6 1045 (9th Cir. 2000))). The Section 1983, Section 1981, and Unruh Act claims 7 against the University therefore must be dismissed.⁸

8 The Section 1983 and Section 1981 claims must also be dismissed as to the 9 University on the independent basis that it is not a “person” suable under Section 10 1983 or Section 1981. See Will v. Mich. Dep’t of State Police, 491 U.S. 58, 64 11 (1989) (states are not persons subject to suit under Section 1983); Pittman v.
12 Oregon, 509 F.3d 1065, 1074 (9th Cir. 2007) (same as to Section 1981); see also 13 Yoshikawa v. Seguirant, 74 F.4th 1042, 1044 (9th Cir. 2023) (en banc) (same as to 14 Section 1981 claims brought under Section 1983). And the Unruh Act claim 15 against the University must be dismissed on the independent bases that (1) even if 16 Ex parte Young applied to the University, Ex parte Young is inapplicable to state-17 law claims, see, e.g., Doe, 891 F.3d at 1153; and (2) the University is not a 18 business establishment subject to liability under the Unruh Act, see infra pp. 27-29.

19 Accordingly, Counts I, III, and IV should be dismissed with prejudice as to 20 the University.

21 B. All Claims Against Chancellor Frenk Must Be Dismissed Because 22 Plaintiffs Fail To Allege That He Was Personally Involved In The 23 Challenged Conduct

24 UCLA Chancellor Frenk took office in January 2025 and oversees the entire 25 UCLA campus (not just its School of Medicine), supporting tens of thousands of 26

27 ⁸ It is unclear whether the Complaint advances an Unruh Act claim against 28 the University. Compare Compl. ¶¶ 162-164 (not listing the University), with Compl. at 37 (purporting to advance Unruh Act claim against all Defendants).

1 students, faculty, and staff. The Complaint’s failure to allege any connection—let 2 alone a plausible one—between Chancellor Frenk and allegedly discriminatory 3 admissions practices at UCLA’s School of Medicine requires dismissal of both the 4 individual capacity and official capacity claims brought against him.

5 To bring a claim under Section 1983, Section 1981, and the Unruh Act 6 against a defendant in their individual capacity, a plaintiff must plausibly allege 7 that the defendant personally participated in the challenged conduct. See, e.g., 8 Silverband v. Woodford, 2010 WL 3635780, at *6 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 18, 2010)
9 (dismissing Section 1983 claim for failure to allege that defendant “personally 10 caused a civil rights violation”); Topadzhikyan v. City of Glendale, 2012 WL 11 12878680, at *5 (C.D. Cal. June 21, 2012) (Section 1981 only applies where the 12 “individual [is] personally involved in the discrimination” (citation omitted)); 13 Hunter v. Chatman, 2018 WL 10076846, at *9 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 20, 2018) (noting 14 that plaintiffs must allege “willful, affirmative misconduct” by individual 15 defendants to survive motion to dismiss Unruh Act claim (citing Wilkins-Jones v.
16 County of Alameda, 859 F. Supp. 2d 1039, 1050-1051 (N.D. Cal. 2012))).
17 Similarly, Title VI claims require plausible allegations of “direct discrimination by 18 the defendant,” “deliberate[] indifferen[ce] to known acts of discrimination,” or 19 “acts of discrimination that result from the defendant's policies.” Randall v. United 20 Network for Organ Sharing, 720 F. Supp. 3d 864, 880 (C.D. Cal. 2024) (quoting 21 United States v. County of Maricopa, 889 F.3d 648, 652 (9th Cir. 2018)).

22 Plaintiffs have alleged none of this with respect to Chancellor Frenk, whom 23 the Complaint mentions only twice: first, alleging that “Frenk is responsible for 24 administration and operation of the UCLA campus, including [David] Geffen 25 [School of Medicine], and oversees all UCLA faculty personnel and staff, 26 including Geffen faculty and staff,” Compl. ¶ 23; and second, alleging that the 27 Dean of the School of Medicine “reports to Frenk,” Compl. ¶ 24. These 28

1 allegations fall woefully short of establishing a personal connection between 2 Chancellor Frenk and any claimed statutory violations, let alone his direct 3 involvement, as is required under Section 1983. See, e.g., Suever v. Connell, 579 4 F.3d 1047, 1062 (9th Cir. 2009) (affirming dismissal of Section 1983 claim 5 brought against individual defendant where complaint “fail[ed] to tie any particular 6 harm that any particular plaintiff allegedly suffered to any discrete action taken by” 7 that defendant); see also Silverband, 2010 WL 3635780, at *6-7 (dismissing 8 Section 1983 claim against “supervisory defendants” because plaintiff did not 9 allege that defendants were “directly involved” in or “personally participated in, 10 directed, or knew of” alleged misconduct). Plaintiffs similarly fail to allege that 11 Chancellor Frenk “was personally involved in the discrimination and intentionally 12 caused the infringement of rights protected by [Section] 1981.” Topadzhikyan, 13 2012 WL 12878680, at *5. Nor does the Complaint plead ““willful, affirmative 14 misconduct on [Chancellor Frenk’s] part,”” as is required to state an Unruh Act 15 claim. Greater L.A. Agency on Deafness, Inc. v. Cable News Network, Inc., 742
16 F.3d 414, 425 (9th Cir. 2014) (citation omitted). And with respect to its Title VI 17 claim, the Complaint fails to allege that Chancellor Frenk directly discriminated, 18 was deliberately indifferent to discrimination, or created an ““official policy”” that 19 resulted in discrimination. County of Maricopa, 889 F.3d at 652 (citation omitted).

20 For similar reasons, Plaintiffs fail to plausibly allege Section 1983 or Section 21 1981 claims against Chancellor Frenk in his official capacity. The Eleventh 22 Amendment immunizes state officials from official-capacity claims except to the 23 extent that Ex parte Young permits “prospective injunctive relief” for violations of 24 federal law. Doe, 891 F.3d at 1153. For the Ex parte Young doctrine to apply to 25 Plaintiffs’ federal claims, “[t]he state official ‘must have some connection with the 26 enforcement’” of the challenged policy. Association des Eleveurs de Canards et 27 d’Oies du Quebec v. Harris, 729 F.3d 937, 943 (9th Cir. 2013). “That connection 28

1 ‘must be fairly direct; a generalized duty to enforce state law or general 2 supervisory power over the persons responsible for enforcing the challenged 3 provision will not subject an official to suit.’” Id.

4 The official-capacity claims against Chancellor Frenk must be dismissed for 5 failure to plausibly allege he had a “‘fairly direct’” connection with the 6 enforcement of any challenged admissions policies. Association des Eleveurs, 729 7 F.3d at 943 (citation omitted). The Complaint’s two passing references to 8 Chancellor Frenk say nothing about any connection between him and the allegedly 9 discriminatory admissions practices—or between Chancellor Frenk and the 10 School’s admissions practices at all. At most, the Complaint alleges in conclusory 11 fashion that Chancellor Frenk had a “general supervisory power” over admissions 12 personnel, which is insufficient to invoke the Ex parte Young doctrine.
13 Association des Eleveurs, 729 F.3d at 943.

14 To the extent the Complaint alleges any involvement by Chancellor Frenk in 15 alleged discrimination, it certainly does not plausibly allege that he engaged in 16 intentional discrimination, as is required to state all four claims brought by 17 Plaintiffs. See Heard v. Cnty. of San Bernardino, 2021 WL 5083336, at *4-5 (C.D.
18 Cal. Oct. 12, 2021) (dismissing Section 1983 claim alleging Equal Protection 19 violations because plaintiff failed to plausibly allege that defendants “acted with an 20 intent or purpose to discriminate”); Doe v. L.A. Unified Sch. Dist., 2016 WL 21 4238636, at *4-5 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 8, 2016) (dismissing Title VI claim for failure to 22 plausibly allege “intentional discrimination”); Imagineering, Inc. v. Kiewit Pac.
23 Co., 976 F.2d 1303, 1313 (9th Cir. 1992) (affirming dismissal of Section 1981 24 claim and noting that plaintiffs must plausibly allege that “defendants intentionally 25 and purposefully discriminated against them”), abrogated on other grounds by 26 Diaz v. Gates, 420 F.3d 897 (9th Cir. 2005) (en banc); Greater L.A. Agency on 27 Deafness, Inc. v. Cable News Network, Inc., 742 F.3d 414, 425 (9th Cir. 2014)

1 (dismissing Unruh Act claim and noting that because the “Unruh Act contemplates 2 willful, affirmative misconduct on the part of those who violate [it], plaintiffs must 3 plausibly allege “more than the disparate impact of a facially neutral policy” 4 (internal quotation marks omitted).

5 Consequently, all claims against Chancellor Frenk must be dismissed with 6 prejudice.

7 C. The Claims Against The Individual Defendants Must Be Dismissed
8 For Other Reasons

9 The Eleventh Amendment immunizes the Individual Defendants from 10 claims against them in their official capacities where those claims arise under state 11 law or seek retrospective relief, including damages. Similarly, neither individual is 12 a recipient of federal funds, requiring dismissal of the Title VI claim against them.
13 Finally, the Section 1983, Section 1981, and Unruh Act claims against the 14 Individual Defendants in their individual capacities must be dismissed because 15 they enjoy qualified immunity, state-law immunity, and because the Unruh Act is 16 inapplicable.

17 1. The Individual Defendants enjoy Eleventh Amendment immunity

18 The Eleventh Amendment immunizes state officials from official-capacity 19 claims except to the extent that the Ex parte Young doctrine applies. Doe, 891 20 F.3d at 1153. Because Ex parte Young provides an exception only for “prospective 21 injunctive relief,” the Section 1983 and Section 1981 claims against the Individual 22 Defendants in their official capacities must be dismissed to the extent they seek 23 retrospective relief. Id. The impermissible retrospective relief requested by 24 Plaintiffs include requests for compensatory, statutory, punitive, and nominal 25 damages, as well as Plaintiffs’ request for “[d]isgorgement of federal financial 26 assistance” received by the School of Medicine, Compl. at 37, because 27
28

1 disgorgement is “a form of retrospective equitable relief.” Coal. for ICANN
2 Transparency Inc. v. VeriSign, Inc., 771 F. Supp. 2d 1195, 1202 (N.D. Cal. 2011).⁹

3 2. Neither Individual Defendant is a recipient of federal funding

4 “[I]ndividuals may not be held liable under Title VI.” A.A.P. v. Sierra 5 Plumas Joint Unified Sch. Dist., 2021 WL 847812, at *7 (E.D. Cal. Mar. 5, 2021); 6 see also Ralon v. Kaiser Found. Health Plan, Inc., 2024 WL 4933330, at *3 (N.D.
7 Cal. Dec. 2, 2024) (recognizing that “[n]umerous courts in the Ninth Circuit” have 8 reached this conclusion); Frankel v. Regents of the Univ. of Cal., No. 24-cv-04702, 9 slip op. at 11-13 (C.D. Cal. May 21, 2025) (reaching same conclusion). Therefore, 10 to the extent Plaintiffs bring a Title VI claim against the Individual Defendants at 11 all, that claim must be dismissed. To the extent Plaintiffs bring a Title VI claim 12 against the Individual Defendants in their official capacities, the claim should 13 similarly be dismissed as redundant of Plaintiffs’ Title VI claims against the 14 University. See Ctr. for Bio-Ethical Reform, Inc. v. L.A. Cnty. Sheriff Dep’t, 533 15 F.3d 780, 799 (9th Cir. 2008) (where both a government officer and a government 16 entity are named defendants, “and the officer is named only in an official capacity, 17 the court may dismiss the officer as a redundant defendant”); Barry v. Yosemite 18 Cnty. Coll. Dist., 2017 WL 896307, at *6 (E.D. Cal. Mar. 7, 2017) (dismissing 19 Title VI claims against government officials as “redundant” of Title VI claims 20 against government entity).

21 3. The Individual Defendants are entitled to qualified immunity from 22 claims for damages under federal law

23 State officers sued in their individual capacities are entitled to qualified 24 immunity against damages claims under federal law unless “(1) they violated a 25 federal statutory or constitutional right, and (2) the unlawfulness of their conduct 26 was ‘clearly established at the time.’” District of Columbia v. Wesby, 583 U.S. 48, 27 ⁹ And in any event, disgorgement is not a form of relief available to private 28 plaintiffs. See infra p. 31.

62-63 (2018). To be “clearly established,” the unlawfulness of the alleged conduct must have been “sufficiently clear that every reasonable official would understand that what he is doing is unlawful. In other words, existing law must have placed the constitutionality of the officer’s conduct beyond debate.” Id. at 63 (cleaned up) (citation omitted).

Even if the Complaint adequately alleges any federal statutory or constitutional violations, which it does not, the Individual Defendants are entitled to qualified immunity to the extent the alleged violations of federal law involved conduct that took place before the Supreme Court’s decision in Students for Fair Admissions, Inc., 600 U.S. at 181.¹⁰ Prior to that decision, under federal law, an applicant’s race or ethnicity could permissibly be considered as a non-dispositive “‘plus’ factor” in admissions decisions to serve a compelling interest in maintaining a diverse student body. Grutter v. Bollinger, 539 U.S. 306, 334 (2003).¹¹ Before June 29, 2023, therefore, there was no “sufficiently clear foundation in then-existing precedent,” Wesby, 583 U.S. at 63, for the principle that under federal law, state officials may not “use[] race as a factor to make admissions decisions,” Compl. ¶ 48. The Individual Defendants are therefore ¹⁰ This is particularly true for Chancellor Frenk, who did not take office until January 2025, well over a year after the Supreme Court’s decision in Students for Fair Admissions.

¹¹ For the avoidance of doubt, the Individual Defendants’ invocation of qualified immunity should not be construed to concede that race was, in fact, considered in admissions to the School of Medicine in any way that would have been permissible under federal law prior to Students for Fair Admissions, but not permissible under California law.

1 immune in their individual capacities to damages claims under federal law based 2 on allegations before June 29, 2023.¹²

3 4. The Individual Defendants enjoy immunity to the Unruh Act claim, 4 which in any event does not apply to the University

5 California Government Code Section 820.2 provides that “a public 6 employee is not liable for an injury resulting from his act or omission where the act 7 or omission was the result of the exercise of the discretion vested in him, whether 8 or not such discretion be abused.” This immunity applies even when a public 9 employee is sued for alleged violations of a California statute, see Caldwell v.
10 Montoya, 897 P.2d 1320, 1328-1329 (Cal. 1995), and it extends to University of 11 California employees, see Brust v. Regents of the Univ. of Cal., 2007 WL 4365521, 12 at *9, *1 (E.D. Cal. Dec. 12, 2007). The immunity covers “deliberate and 13 considered policy decisions in which a conscious balancing of risks and advantages 14 took place.” Brust, 2007 WL 4365521, at *8.

15 The Complaint seeks to hold the Individual Defendants, both public 16 employees, liable for exercising policy- and decision-making authority over 17 admissions at UCLA’s School of Medicine in an allegedly discriminatory manner.
18 See, e.g., Compl. ¶¶ 25, 56-69. Thus, the Unruh Act claim depends on allegations 19 of discrimination through “‘actual, conscious, and considered’ collective policy 20 decisions” made in their capacities as state officials, meaning they are “entitled to 21 immunity pursuant to [Section] 820.2.” Brust, 2007 WL 4365521, at *9; see also

24 ¹² The qualified immunity inquiry concerns only alleged violations of 25 “federal statutory or constitutional rights,” Wesby, 583 U.S. at 62-63 (emphasis 26 added). Thus, the fact that Proposition 209 prohibited consideration of race or 27 ethnicity in admissions under California law is irrelevant to the qualified immunity 28 analysis. Even if the Complaint alleged violations of Proposition 209—which it does not—the Individual Defendants are still entitled to qualified immunity with respect to Plaintiffs’ federal claims.

1 id. at *9 n.9 (Section 820.2 applies to Unruh Act claims).¹³ For example, the 2 Complaint alleges that Associate Dean Lucero set admissions office policy based 3 on her alleged belief that “it’s important to racially diversify medical-school 4 admissions, residencies, and leadership positions in medicine.” Compl. ¶ 58. A 5 “fair reading” of the Complaint thus “admits of no theory that [Associate Dean 6 Lucero] acted unconsciously or failed to weigh pros and cons”; rather, it asserts 7 that she “did purposefully employ standards [she] deemed relevant, but that the 8 standards employed were wrong and impermissible.” Caldwell, 897 P.2d at 1328; 9 see also Brust, 2007 WL 4365521, at *9. Accordingly, the Individual Defendants 10 are entitled to immunity from the Unruh Act claim pursuant to Section 820.2.¹⁴

11 Additionally, the Unruh Act claim must be dismissed because the statute 12 covers only discrimination by “business establishments.” Cal. Civ. Code, § 51(b).
13 Neither the Individual Defendants nor the University (including its UCLA campus 14 and that campus’ School of Medicine) is a business establishment under the Unruh 15 Act, which does not apply to public educational institutions “acting in their core 16

17 ¹³ The Complaint fails to allege any facts purporting to show Chancellor 18 Frenk was personally involved in the alleged discrimination at all. Supra pp. 21-19 24. But even if the Court were to find that any of the allegedly discriminatory 20 conduct has been plausibly alleged to be attributable to Chancellor Frenk, he is 21 nevertheless protected by Section 820.2.

22 ¹⁴ Plaintiffs assert that the Individual Defendants “can be sued under the 23 Unruh Act in their personal capacit[y],” citing two cases for support. Compl.
24 ¶ 162. Those cases are inapposite. The first, Fruciano v. Regents of the University 25 of California, discusses whether state officials are immune under the Eleventh 26 Amendment for claims brought against them in their personal capacities under 27 Section 1983. 2018 WL 4219232, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 5). It only discusses the 28 Unruh Act to hold that plaintiffs’ claims under the Act were barred by the statute of limitations. Id. at *6. It does not address the applicability of the Unruh Act to state officials, nor does it address state officials’ immunity from suit under Section 820.2. The second case, K.S. v. Fremont United School District, likewise focuses on immunity under the Eleventh Amendment and does not address the applicability of Section 820.2. 2007 WL 4287522, at *6 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 6, 2007).

educational capacity.” Brennon B. v. Superior Ct., 513 P.3d 971, 982 (Cal. 2022). While Plaintiffs allege that the School “effectively operates as a business or a commercial enterprise” because it advertises to “enhance its economic value,” collects application fees, enters into contractual relationships, and solicits and operates with non-state funds, Compl. ¶ 163, the fact that an organization engages in some commercial transactions does not make it a “business establishment,” see Curran v. Mount Diablo Council of the Boy Scouts, 952 P.2d 218, 238 (Cal. 1998) (Boy Scouts organization is not a business establishment despite “engag[ing] in business transactions” on regular basis). “The task of educating students does not involve regularly conducting business transactions with the public, or receiving ‘financial benefits from regular business transactions’; nor does it involve ‘operating in a capacity that is the functional equivalent of a commercial enterprise.’” Brennon, 513 P.3d at 982. Because the University (including the UCLA campus and its School of Medicine) is not a business establishment, neither of the Individual Defendants can be liable under the Unruh Act for actions taken while employed by the University.

III. THE COURT SHOULD DISMISS PLAINTIFFS’ REQUESTED REMEDIES OF PUNITIVE DAMAGES, DISGORGEMENT, AND STATUTORY DAMAGES UNDER THE UNRUH ACT, AND STRIKE PLAINTIFFS’ CLASS ALLEGATIONS

To the extent the Court does not grant the Motion in full, many of the remedies sought in the Complaint must still be dismissed because they are not plausibly alleged and are unavailable as a matter of law. These include punitive damages, “disgorgement” of previously awarded federal funds, and an injunction lifting the School of Medicine’s “no-transfer” policy. See Gutzalenko v. City of Richmond, 723 F. Supp. 3d 748, 762 (N.D. Cal. 2024) (dismissing claim for punitive damages under Rule 12(b)(6)); Castillo v. Prime Hydration LLC, 748 F. Supp. 3d 757, 774 (N.D. Cal. 2024) (dismissing claims for injunctive and other equitable relief). Additionally, Plaintiffs' class allegations are facially insufficient to satisfy the requirements of Rule 23 and should be stricken as well. See Am. W. Door & Trim v. Arch Specialty Ins., 2015 WL 1266787, at *8 (C.D. Cal. Mar. 18, 2015) (striking deficient class allegations).

A. Punitive Damages Are Unavailable

Plaintiffs cannot recover punitive damages on any of their claims.

First, punitive damages are unavailable against any Defendant under Title VI as a matter of law. See Barnes v. Gorman, 536 U.S. 181, 189 (2002).

Second, punitive damages are also not recoverable for the Section 1983, Section 1981, and Unruh Act claims against the University or against the Individual Defendants in their official capacities. California Government Code Section 818 bars recovery of punitive damages against "public entit[ies]" such as the University. United Nat'l Maint., Inc. v. S.D. Convention Ctr., Inc., 766 F.3d 1002, 1012 (9th Cir. 2014); Regents of the Univ. of Cal. v. Superior Court, 413 P.3d 656, 663 (Cal. 2018) (the University of California is a public entity). This precludes punitive damages against the University for plaintiffs' Unruh Act claims. See Gay-Straight All. Network v. Visalia Unified Sch. Dist., 262 F. Supp. 2d 1088, 1111 (E.D. Cal. 2001). Punitive damages are likewise unavailable against the University for Plaintiffs' federal claims under Sections 1983 and 1981. See id. at 1110-1111 (punitive damages unavailable against public entities under Section 1983); Tan v. Univ. of Cal. S.F., 2007 WL 963223, at *1 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 29, 2007) (same under Section 1981). For the same reasons, Plaintiffs' claims against the Individual Defendants in their official capacities cannot give rise to punitive damages. See Cook v. Torres, 2013 WL 5946072, at *11 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 5, 2013) (striking punitive damages claims against individual defendants in their official capacities).

1 Third, Plaintiffs fail to plausibly allege entitlement to punitive damages 2 against the Individual Defendants in their individual capacities, as entitlement to 3 such damages would require plausibly pleading that their conduct was ““motivated 4 by evil motive or intent”” or involved ““reckless or callous indifference”” to 5 Plaintiffs’ rights. Gutzalenko, 723 F. Supp. 3d at 762. Despite Plaintiffs’ bare 6 assertion that Defendants’ alleged use of race in the admissions process “shows 7 callous disregard of applicants’ right to equal treatment,” Compl. ¶ 142, the facts 8 alleged, even if true, do not rise to the level of “evil motive or intent” or “reckless 9 or callous indifference.” Accordingly, Plaintiffs’ punitive damages claims against 10 the Individual Defendants must be dismissed.

11 B. Plaintiffs Are Not Entitled To “Disgorgement” Of Previously 12 Awarded Federal Funds

13 Plaintiffs cite no legal basis for requesting the extraordinary remedy of 14 “[d]isgorgement of federal financial assistance received by [UCLA’s School of 15 Medicine] during the period in which it did not comply with federal law.” Compl.
16 at 37. Only Plaintiffs’ Title VI claims have any nexus to alleged receipt of federal 17 funds, but “disgorgement” of such funds is not a not a permissible remedy in a 18 private Title VI suit.

19 Defendants are not aware of any cases in which a federal court has 20 recognized the availability of disgorgement of federal funds to a plaintiff suing a 21 federal funding recipient over alleged statutory violations, and Plaintiffs’ 22 Complaint cites none. Termination of federal funding under Title VI is a “last 23 resort” that may only be taken by a federal agency, provided Title VI’s extensive 24 statutory process has been followed. See Cannon v. Univ. of Chicago, 441 U.S.
25 677, 705 & n.38 (1979). A private suit under Title VI, by contrast, offers a private 26 remedy for “individual relief to a private litigant” separate and apart from the 27 “public remedy” of termination of funding. See id. at 704-707. Because Plaintiffs 28

1 seek relief that is categorically unavailable under Title VI—or under any other 2 authority they cite—that claim must be dismissed.

3 C. Plaintiffs’ Request For An Injunction Against The School’s 4 Limitations On Transfers And Multiple Applications Must Be
5 Dismissed

6 Plaintiffs seek an injunction requiring the School to lift its limitations on 7 acceptance of transfer students and multiple applications through the creation of an 8 “injunctive subclass,” Compl. ¶ 112, but such an injunction would be improper.
9 Plaintiffs do not allege that the School’s no-transfer policy or reapplication limits 10 are unlawful, and therefore Mahoney and the “injunctive subclass” she seeks to 11 represent cannot show they are ready to apply to transfer to the School of Medicine 12 but for an allegedly discriminatory practice. See Loffman, 119 F.4th 1147 at 1159 13 n.6. Thus, Plaintiffs lack standing to seek an injunction lifting the no-transfer 14 policy and reapplication limits. Moreover, because this relief would require the 15 School to change its admissions policies, Plaintiffs must meet the “heightened 16 standard that applies to mandatory injunctive relief”—i.e., the “facts and law 17 [must] clearly favor” Plaintiffs. Katie A., ex rel. Ludin v. Los Angeles Cnty., 481 18 F.3d 1150, 1156 (9th Cir. 2007) (citing Stanley v. Univ. of S. California, 13 F.3d 19 1313, 1320 (9th Cir. 1994)). Plaintiffs cannot meet that burden, and their request 20 for this relief must be dismissed.

21 D. Plaintiffs’ Class Allegations Must Be Stricken

22 Plaintiffs seek to certify a class and subclass with Mahoney as its sole 23 representative. Compl. ¶¶ 111-112. But Plaintiffs’ class allegations “make it 24 obvious that classwide relief is not available” under Rule 23, so they must be 25 stricken. See Am. W. Door & Trim, 2015 WL 1266787, at *8 (granting motion to 26 strike deficient class allegations). Mahoney lacks Article III standing and therefore 27 plaintiffs’ proposed class and subclass lack a representative. Supra pp. 17-18.
