ANSWER OF EHEALTH INC. AND EHEALTHINSURANCE SERVICES, INC. TO THE UNITED STATES' COMPLAINT IN PARTIAL INTERVENTION

Defendants eHealth Inc. and eHealthInsurance Services, Inc. (together, “eHealth”), by and through its undersigned counsel, hereby provide the following Answer to the United States of America’s Complaint in Partial Intervention (the “Complaint”):

eHealth submits this Answer solely with respect to the claims, allegations, and requests for relief that remain pending following the Court’s March 25, 2026 Order. See Mem. & Order on Defs.’ Mot. Dismiss, Dkt. No. 147. Accordingly, eHealth answers only the allegations relevant to the claims and theories that remain at issue. To the extent that any allegation is directed solely at a dismissed claim, dismissed theory, or dismissed request for relief, no response is required; to the extent that a response is later deemed required to any dismissed allegation, eHealth denies such allegation.

Any allegation not explicitly admitted is denied. eHealth does not, by noting or admitting that the Complaint purports to characterize or quote particular documents, admit the truth of any assertion in the referenced document or admit that the Complaint accurately represents or quotes from such documents (none of which are attached to the Complaint). Moreover, the Complaint contains headings and a preliminary statement which are not set forth in numbered allegations and are thus not substantive allegations to which an answer is required. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 10(b) (“A party must state its claims or defenses in numbered paragraphs, each limited as far as practicable to a single set of circumstances.”). To the extent that headings are substantive allegations to which an answer is required, eHealth denies the allegations. To the extent that the preliminary statement is deemed to include substantive allegations, then eHealth denies the allegations. eHealth further objects to the 217-page Complaint’s contravention of federal pleading standards, including the requirement to offer a “short and plain statement” of claims, to ensure that “[e]ach allegation must be simple, concise, and direct,” to avoid impermissible group pleading, and to so far as possible limit each numbered paragraph “to a single set of circumstances.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2), 8(d)(1), 10(b). eHealth reserves the right to amend its Answer in the event it misconstrued the intended meaning of any of the Complaint’s allegations.

Jurisdiction and Venue

1. Admitted.
2. Denied as to the parts of this paragraph which are conclusions of law and for which no response is required. This paragraph contains allegations against parties other than eHealth, and thus no response is required. Admitted only that eHealth maintained an office in Westford, Massachusetts, and that this Court may exercise jurisdiction over it.
3. Denied as a conclusion of law to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, eHealth admits this Court has venue over this action.

Parties

4. Admitted.

5. eHealth admits that Relator is a former employee and that he filed an action in this Court allegation violations of the FCA on behalf of himself and the United States. eHealth lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegation concerning Relator's residence. The remaining allegations consist of legal conclusions to which no response is required.

Jury Demand

To the extent the jury demand is a legal conclusion, no response is required.

Affirmative Defenses

Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8(c) and without assuming the burden of proof for any claim or element of a claim that properly lies with the Plaintiff, eHealth sets forth the following affirmative defenses to the Complaint:

1. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, because the Complaint fails to state a claim against eHealth upon which relief may be granted.

2. Plaintiff fails to sufficiently plead its allegations under Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 8(a) and 9(b).

3. Plaintiff's claims are barred because eHealth's actions did not violate the Anti-Kickback Statute.

4. Plaintiff's claims are barred because eHealth's actions did not violate the False Claims Act.

5. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, because eHealth's actions were undertaken in good faith and/or in reasonable reliance upon regulatory interpretations and judgments by federal employees or officials upon whom eHealth was entitled to rely. Further, eHealth's actions constitute lawful, proper, justified, and/or privileged conduct in accordance with the governing statutes and regulations and in accordance with established industry practice.

6. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, because eHealth's actions fall within the marketing regulations established by the Center for Medicaid and Medicare Services ("CMS").

7. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, because eHealth's actions were based on an objectively reasonable interpretation of the CMS regulations. The relevant regulations were, at best, vague and ambiguous and did not warn eHealth away from its interpretation.

8. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, because eHealth did not act with the requisite scienter within the meaning of the Anti-Kickback Statute or False Claims Act.

9. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, because eHealth's actions complied with any applicable and/or relevant anti-discrimination laws.

10. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, because the alleged conduct of eHealth was not material to the payment of any alleged false or fraudulent claims.

11. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, by the doctrine of consent and/or ratification because representatives from the United States Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) and CMS and affiliated agencies, including individuals with authority to act on behalf of those agencies, knew of the structure and existence of the alleged marketing payments. Despite the open and public nature of these payments, CMS took no action against the Defendant Insurers or eHealth and, with knowledge of relevant facts, continued to reimburse claims throughout the relevant time period.

12. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, because the claims allegedly submitted or caused to be submitted by eHealth were not false.

13. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, because eHealth's conduct did not cause or proximately cause any false claim or certification, or the alleged loss and/or damages.

14. Plaintiff suffered no damages as a result of the conduct alleged in the Complaint.

15. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, as the occurrences referenced in the Complaint and all damages, if any, resulting therefrom were caused by the acts or omissions of third parties over whom eHealth had no control.

16. The damages and penalties the Plaintiff seeks should be diminished, reduced, or offset, due to the comparative and/or contributory negligence, fault, responsibility, or causation of others.

17. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, because eHealth did not make, present, or cause to be presented any false claim, record, or statement to the United States.

18. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, because Plaintiff's alleged damages and injuries are not attributable to any act, conduct, or omission on the part of eHealth.

19. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, because the alleged express certifications identified in the Complaint are too general to be the basis for FCA liability.

20. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, to the extent the statute it seeks to enforce, or the damages and penalties it seeks to recover, violates the United States Constitution, including under the Appointments, Vesting, Take Care, Excessive Fines, and Due Process clauses.

21. Plaintiff's claims are barred by the First Amendment to the United States Constitution.

22. Plaintiff's claims are barred by the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution.

23. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, by the applicable statute of limitations.

24. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, because they stem from Relator Andrew Shea's unlawful theft of privileged and work-product-protected information.

25. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, by the doctrine of estoppel.

26. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, by the doctrine of waiver.

27. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, because the United States failed to mitigate its damages.

28. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, because the beneficiaries were eligible to enroll in Medicare Advantage plans and thus the United States would be unjustly enriched if allowed to recover any portion of the damages alleged in the Complaint.

By alleging the matters set forth in these Affirmative Defenses, eHealth does not allege or admit that it bears the burden of proof and/or persuasion with respect to any of these matters. Some of the defenses listed here may not constitute affirmative defenses and are listed out of an abundance of caution. By listing a defense here, eHealth does not assume an obligation to prove the truth of the matter stated, and instead, some of these defenses may be stating matters that the United States cannot prove or establish as a matter of law or may relate to elements that the United States cannot prove because the facts are otherwise. eHealth's investigation is continuing and it reserves the right to assert such additional affirmative defenses as may be appropriate based on additional information obtained through discovery or otherwise.

WHEREFORE, eHealth respectfully requests that the Court dismisses the United States's claims with prejudice, award eHealth the costs and attorneys' fees incurred by it in defending this action, and grant other and further relief as it may deem just and proper.

Jury Trial Demand

eHealth hereby demands a trial by jury on all claims so triable.
