LAROQUE

Defendants.

Case No. 5:25-cv-00132

MOTION FOR LEAVE TO FILE UNDER SEAL

INTRODUCTION

Pursuant to Local Rule CV-5(a)(7), Plaintiff Blue Cross Blue Shield of Texas (“BCBSTX”) moves the Court to file its Complaint under seal. This action relates to a fraudulent scheme by which Defendants abused federal and state legislation to initiate statutory out-of-network payment disputes for claims, services, and items that were ineligible for the respective Independent Dispute Resolution (“IDR”) processes they were submitted into so that Defendants could secure excessive funds from BCBSTX and its plan sponsors. Accordingly, the Complaint includes references to the specific rates that BCBSTX reimbursed certain at-issue medical services. These reimbursement rates are confidential, proprietary, and non-public because their disclosure would put BCBSTX at a competitive disadvantage in future negotiations with healthcare providers. Accordingly, BCBSTX seeks leave to file its Complaint under seal. BCBSTX will immediately file a public version of the Complaint with limited redactions to protect its confidential information in compliance with Local Rule CV-5(a)(7)(E).

LEGAL STANDARDS

Although the public has a common law right to view judicial records, this “right is not absolute.” Cunningham v. Concentrix Sols. Corp., No. 4:20-cv-661, 2021 WL 3190518, at *3-4 (E.D. Tex. July 28, 2021). “In deciding whether to seal [judicial records], the [c]ourt must balance the common law right to access to judicial records with the purported interest in sealing the record.” Id. at *4. “The Court considers the relevant facts and circumstances of the particular case, and weighs the interests advanced by the parties in light of the public interest and the duty of the courts.” Id. (internal quotations omitted).

ARGUMENT

There is ample justification to grant BCBSTX leave to file its Complaint under seal because it contains sensitive reimbursement rate information, the disclosure of which would put BCBSTX at a competitive disadvantage in future negotiations with healthcare providers.

Courts regularly permit such pricing or rate information to be filed under seal.¹ For instance, in Saint Alphonsus Med. Ctr.--Nampa, Inc. v. St. Luke's Health Sys., Ltd., the court considered the sealing of portions of various materials related to a healthcare dispute. No. 1:12-CV-00560-BLW, 2014 WL 3101716, at *1-3 (D. Idaho July 3, 2014). As it relates to a “[m]emo” that contained “the specific results of an agreement between these parties on various reimbursement rates[,]” the Court found that there is “compelling reason to seal this because it reveals current and future specific rate information that will harm Blue Cross’s negotiating ability with other providers.” Id. at *4.

Here too, BCBSTX’s Complaint contains references to reimbursement rates that BCBSTX reimbursed various at-issue services rendered by providers in Texas and elsewhere. If these rates were disseminated or publicly disclosed, it “will harm [BCBSTX’s] negotiating ability with other providers.” Id. Against this clear harm, there is de minimis, if any, benefit to public access to these reimbursement rates. The publicly available version of the Complaint enables the public to view the allegations and claims for relief, and understand the fraud scheme at issue. Moreover, as can be seen in the public version of the Complaint, BCBSTX has only redacted limited portions of the Complaint which include specific references to these reimbursement rates. See JBS Packerland, Inc. v. Phillips Cattle Co., Inc., No. 24-CV-01299-BAS-MSB, 2024 WL 4427794, at *2 (S.D. Cal. Oct. 4, 2024) (granting motion to seal where the “proposed redactions are narrow and appropriate”).

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, BCBSTX respectfully requests that this Court enter an Order, granting BCBSTX leave to file its Complaint under seal.
