Case No. 2:25-cv-220

DEFENDANT CHRISTOPHER COOPRIDIER’S
MOTION TO COMPEL NON-PARTY SUBPOENA AND DWQ

TO THE HONORABLE JUDGE OF SAID COURT:

Defendant Christopher Coopridier (“Defendant”) files this, its Motion to Compel Medical and Billing Records from Non-Party, Radiology Associates, LLP, and would respectfully show the Court as follows:

I. INTRODUCTION & BACKGROUND

1.1. This is a wrongful death lawsuit where Plaintiff alleges Defendant caused the death of her unborn child by providing abortion-inducing drugs to her when she was pregnant for the purpose of inducing an abortion (the “Incident”). See Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem Code § 71.002(b) and Section 171.063 of the Texas Health and Safety Code; see also [Dkt 1 at 28]. Plaintiff Liana Davis (“Davis”) claims that Defendant got her pregnant and when he found out, purchased abortion inducing medication from Aid Access GmbH, which is located in Amsterdam, for the purposes of allegedly trying to “murder” her unborn child. [Dkt 1 at 5].

1.2. Davis further alleges that on April 5, 2025, Defendant manipulated her into thinking he wanted to come over to her residence for a “trust building” session with her but secretly, without her knowledge, laced her hot chocolate with the abortion pills he obtained from Aid Access. [Dkt 1 at 21-22]. Davis claims that she began hemorrhaging 30 minutes after drinking the “contaminated” hot chocolate. [Dkt 1 at 22]. Davis miscarried the fetus. [Dkt 1 at 27].

1.3. Based on responses to Plaintiff’s Initial Disclosures under Rule 26(a)(1) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure served by Davis in this case (Exhibit A), on March 2, 2026, Defendant issued and filed Subpoenas with Notices of Intention to take the Deposition by Written Questions directed to Radiology Associates, LLP. (Exhibits B1 and B2). Plaintiff did not file any objections or seek to quash Defendant’s issuance of his Notices of Intention to Take Deposition by Written Questions to Radiology Associates, LLP, which specifically requested the release of medical records pertaining to Davis from November 1, 2024, to present.

1.4. However, Radiology Associates, LLP has refused to comply with the Subpoenas and Notices of Intention to Take Deposition by Written Questions. Please see Exhibit C. In order to evaluate Davis’s claims, prepare for deposition, and prepare for trial, Defendant is entitled to review Plaintiff’s relevant medical records. Radiology Associates, LLP treated Davis for similar issues related to those in this case. Please see Exhibit A.

1.5. Medical, billing, and radiological records from healthcare professionals who have provided medical treatment for injuries Plaintiff allegedly sustained as a result of Defendant’s conduct are discoverable in this case. Further, Plaintiff’s medical records received to date report several medical conditions that were in existence prior to the alleged Incident, which places Plaintiff’s pre-accident health status into controversy. Therefore, the deposition by written questions that seek medical and billing records from Plaintiff’s medical providers from prior Incident conditions are also relevant and discoverable.

II. ARGUMENT & AUTHORITIES

2.1. The purpose of discovery is to seek the truth so disputes may be decided by what the facts reveal and not by what facts are concealed. Axelson, Inc. v. McIlhany, 798 S.W.2d 550, 555 (Tex. 1990). Discovery may be obtained about any matter relevant to the subject matter of the case. TEX. R. CIV. P. 192.3(a). Information is discoverable as long as it appears “reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.” Id. When a party refuses to comply with proper discovery requests, the party seeking discovery may file a motion to compel the other party to respond. TEX. R. CIV. P. 215.1(b).

2.2. In the present case, it is necessary for the Court to compel Radiology Associates, LLP to comply with the Subpoenas with Deposition by Written Questions regarding Liana Davis.

A. Defendant Seeks Only Relevant Healthcare Information Pertaining to Liana Davis

2.3. Medical information is discoverable if the record is relevant to an issue of the physical, mental, or emotional condition of a patient in a proceeding in which any party relies on the condition as part of its claim or defense. TEX. R. EVID. 509(e)(4); see In re Collins, 286 S.W.3d 911, 916 (Tex. 2009). This Court should grant Defendant’s Motion to Compel because: (1) the records are relevant and proportional under Rule 26(b)(1) because Plaintiff has placed her medical condition at issue; (2) any physician-patient privilege or HIPAA-based objection is overcome because Plaintiff’s medical condition is central to the litigation; and (3) the nonparty’s refusal, absent a specific and detailed showing of undue burden, cannot withstand the heavy burden required to resist a properly issued subpoena.

Defendant is seeking Davis’s medical records regarding her condition so that he can adequately defend against Plaintiff’s claims. Both Davis’s pre- and post-Incident medical condition regarding prior pregnancies or any conditions that may affect pregnancy are both relevant and necessary to the defense of this case. See TEX. R. EVID. 509(e)(4); see In re Collins, 286 S.W.3d 911, 916 (Tex. 2009). For these reasons, Defendant's Motion to Compel should be granted.

III. CONCLUSION & PRAYER

3.1. This is not a case in which Defendant is seeking Davis's medical records on a hunch. Plaintiff provided the name of this medical care provider in her responses to disclosures. Please see Exhibit A.

3.2. Preventing access to those records would be severely prejudicial to the defense of this case because Plaintiff is accusing Defendant of murdering their unborn child. Defendant seeks medical records from healthcare professionals that Plaintiff sought treatment from. This material is relevant to Defendant's defenses. The records are therefore discoverable in this case. As such, Defendant's Motion to Compel should be granted.

BASED ON THE FOREGOING, Defendant asks the Court to grant its Motion to Compel, to issue an order compelling Radiology Associates, LLP to produce the requested medical records, as well as for all further relief to which it may be entitled.

PLAINTIFF’S INITIAL DISCLOSURES UNDER RULE 26(a)(1)

Plaintiff Liana Davis makes these initial disclosures in accordance with Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1):

1. “The name and, if known, the address and telephone number of each individual likely to have discoverable information—along with the subjects of that information—that the disclosing party may use to support its claims or defenses, unless the use would be solely for impeachment,” Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1)(A)(i).

2. “A copy—or a description by category and location—of all documents, electronically stored information, and tangible things that the disclosing party has in its possession, custody, or control and may use to support its claims or defenses, unless the use would be solely for impeachment,” Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1)(A)(ii).

Exhibits 1–43 to the plaintiff’s complaint will be used to support Ms. Davis’s claims and defenses in this case. Ms. Davis has additional text messages and communications between her and Coopridier in her possession that may also be used to support her claims and defenses.

3. “A computation of each category of damages claimed by the disclosing party—who must also make available for inspection and copying as under Rule 34 the documents or other evidentiary material, unless privileged or protected from disclosure, on which each computation is based, including materials bearing on the nature and extent of injuries suffered,” Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1)(A)(iii).

Ms. Davis is claiming the following categories of damages: (a) Compensatory damages for all medical expenses resulting from Ms. Davis’s hospitalization and emergency-room visit after Coopridier poisoned her and her unborn child with misoprostol; (b) Compensatory damages for lost companionship and loss of consortium resulting from Coopridier’s murder of Ms. Davis’s unborn child; (c) Compensatory damages for the mental anguish and emotional distress that Ms. Davis suffered on account of Coopridier’s murder of her unborn child; (d) Compensatory damages for the pain and suffering that Ms. Davis and her unborn child experienced as the result of Coopridier’s decision to poison Ms. Davis and murder her unborn child with misoprostol; (e) Compensatory damages for lost income that would have been earned by Ms. Davis’s unborn child; (f) Exemplary damages under section 71.009 of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code, as Coopridier’s poisoning of Ms. Davis and her unborn child was a “wilful act” within the meaning of the statute.

4. “[F]or inspection and copying as under Rule 34, any insurance agreement under which an insurance business may be liable to satisfy all or part of a possible judgment in the action or to indemnify or reimburse for payments made to satisfy the judgment,” Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1)(A)(iii).

None.

Respectfully submitted.

If this subpoena commands the production of documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things before trial, a notice and a copy of the subpoena must be served on each party in this case before it is served on the person to whom it is directed. Fed. R. Civ. P. 45(a)(4).

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45 (c), (d), (e), and (g) (Effective 12/1/13)(c) Place of Compliance.

(1) For a Trial, Hearing, or Deposition. A subpoena may command a person to attend a trial, hearing, or deposition only as follows:

- (A) within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; or
- (B) within the state where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person, if the person
 - (i) is a party or a party's officer; or
 - (ii) is commanded to attend a trial and would not incur substantial expense.

(2) For Other Discovery. A subpoena may command:

- (A) production of documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things at a place within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; and
- (B) inspection of premises at the premises to be inspected.

(d) Protecting a Person Subject to a Subpoena; Enforcement.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The court for the district where compliance is required must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction—which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney's fees—on a party or attorney who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.

(A) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things, or to permit the inspection of premises, need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing, or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises—or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the following rules apply:

- (i) At any time, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the court for the district where compliance is required for an order compelling production or inspection.
- (ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

(A) When Required. On timely motion, the court for the district where compliance is required must quash or modify a subpoena that:

- (i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;
- (ii) requires a person to comply beyond the geographical limits specified in Rule 45(c);
- (iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or
- (iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the court for the district where compliance is required may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires:

- (i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information; or

(ii) disclosing an unretained expert's opinion or information that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert's study that was not requested by a party.

(C) Specifying Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(d)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:

- (i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and
- (ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(e) Duties in Responding to a Subpoena.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored Information. These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:

(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.

(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

- (i) expressly make the claim; and
- (ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information under seal to the court for the district where compliance is required for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(g) Contempt.

The court for the district where compliance is required—and also, after a motion is transferred, the issuing court—may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena or an order related to it.

If this subpoena commands the production of documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things before trial, a notice and a copy of the subpoena must be served on each party in this case before it is served on the person to whom it is directed. Fed. R. Civ. P. 45(a)(4).

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45 (c), (d), (e), and (g) (Effective 12/1/13)(c) Place of Compliance.

(1) For a Trial, Hearing, or Deposition. A subpoena may command a person to attend a trial, hearing, or deposition only as follows:

- (A) within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; or
- (B) within the state where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person, if the person
 - (i) is a party or a party's officer; or
 - (ii) is commanded to attend a trial and would not incur substantial expense.

(2) For Other Discovery. A subpoena may command:

- (A) production of documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things at a place within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; and
- (B) inspection of premises at the premises to be inspected.

(d) Protecting a Person Subject to a Subpoena; Enforcement.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The court for the district where compliance is required must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction—which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney's fees—on a party or attorney who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.

(A) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things, or to permit the inspection of premises, need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing, or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises—or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the following rules apply:

- (i) At any time, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the court for the district where compliance is required for an order compelling production or inspection.
- (ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

(A) When Required. On timely motion, the court for the district where compliance is required must quash or modify a subpoena that:

- (i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;
- (ii) requires a person to comply beyond the geographical limits specified in Rule 45(c);
- (iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or
- (iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the court for the district where compliance is required may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires:

- (i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information; or

(ii) disclosing an unretained expert's opinion or information that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert's study that was not requested by a party.

(C) Specifying Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(d)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:

- (i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and
- (ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(e) Duties in Responding to a Subpoena.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored Information. These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:

(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.

(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

- (i) expressly make the claim; and
- (ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information under seal to the court for the district where compliance is required for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(g) Contempt.

The court for the district where compliance is required—and also, after a motion is transferred, the issuing court—may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena or an order related to it.
